NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BUILDING

Committeeman Campbell Says Lowell Needs One—He Also Favors Half-Time Schools

Asked if the school department the elementary grade teachers this would live within its appropriation year represents about $20,000. On this year, School Committeeman Campbell said it would be impossible. The expense of perhaps $30,000 or $40,000 for school department, last year," said Mr. Campbell, "expended $420,000 and the department this year, too, has only $385,000. That represents a had to pay about $1500 for industrial come down of $35,000 and it must not be forgotten that the increase granted

FIRE DEPT. RECORDS FOR 1907 MISSING

City Solicitor and Lawyer Palmer Searching High and Low But Fail to Find Them

Jackson Palmer is looking for the records of the fire department of Lowell for 1907 and if you know anything about the records Jackson would be mighty glad to hear from you. They are wanted in connection with the case of William J. Green vs. Andrew E. Barrett, and Mr. Jackson Palmer is attorney for Mr. Green.

City Solicitor Hennessy has had sleuths going from cellar to attic at city hall looking for the records, but they did not have any more success than did the expert accountants in locating the Huntington hall fund. Andrew E. Barrett, the commissioner in the case, says he doesn't know anything about the records. "I don't know how old Anne is; I don't know who struck Billy Patterson and I don't know where the records are," said

MULHALL REPLIES TO ATTACKS

Self Styled Lobbyist for 10 Years Interrupted Senate Committee to Make Statement

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Martin Mulhall, self styled lobbyist for ten years for the National Association of Manufacturers, interrupted the senate lobby investigation today to reply to what he declared were personal attacks upon his character and his purpose in the expose in which he has become the central figure in the lobby probe.

He denied he had tried to sell the great mass of papers and letters which were recently published and which now are in the hands of the senate committee. Later, he said, he hoped to introduce witnesses and letters to show he had been engaged for months in "trying to give away" the great file

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Will Hold Business Meeting Tomorrow Forenoon and Give Hearing at Night

The municipal council will hold two meetings tomorrow, one in the forenoon at 11 o'clock and the other in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. Routine matters will be attended to at the forenoon meeting and in the evening there will be hearings on the proposition to widen street and the Lawrence street bridge at the Wamesit canal. The question is as to whether or not Lowell should pay one-fourth of the expense and it was stated today that there would be remonstrants galore at the hearing, as a great many not in favor of having the city pay any part of the expense have been heard to say that they would attend the hearing. The matter of the purchase of land in West Centralville for playground purposes is also scheduled for a hearing and it looks like a case of "come early and avoid the rush."

Car Struck Milk Wagon

A Chelmsford bound electric car collided with a milk wagon near the Chelmsford Street hospital about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The wagon contained several foreigners who were somewhat shaken up and a woman named Mrs. Barville received cuts about the head making it necessary to send her to the Lowell hospital for treatment. The wagon was slightly damaged.

MANY BURNED ALIVE

People Crucified and Hacked to Death By Bulgarians, Driven From Serres By Greeks—No Sign of Peace

SALONIKI, July 14.—Many people were crucified, hacked to pieces or burned alive by the defeated Bulgarian army on being driven from Serres by the Greek army, according to a dispatch here today from a well known Greek correspondent.

The sacking and burning of the town by the Bulgarians and the accompanying outrages of women and atrocities on men completed the horrors of the day.

The recreating Bulgarian soldiers, he telegraphed, opened a cannonade with four field guns from a hill above the town on Friday. At the same time bands of Bulgarian soldiers, led by their officers, scoured the streets, first pillaging the stores and houses and then drenching them with petroleum and setting them alight until the greater part of the town was blazing. The soldiers were accompanied by the notorious revolutionary, Col. Yan-koff, who with other former officers of the Bulgarian army, was very active in Macedonia in 1913.

Even the foreign consulates in Serres were not spared, according to the correspondent. The Austro-Hungarian offices were plundered and burned, Vice-Consul George C. Zelatzko being carried off by the marauders but subsequently ransomed. The Italian consulate also was sacked but the consul bought off the incendiaries.

The Bank of Athens, the Oriental bank, the Palace of the Metropolitan, the great synagogue, all the schools, the tobacco warehouses of the American, Austrian and German companies and the hospitals were burned after they had been pillaged.

The American Tobacco Co. alone suffered to the extent of $1,000,000. The Bulgarians committed also incredible outrages on women of all ages, many of whom died from the effects.

The condition of those who escaped is lamentable. Rich merchants are dying of hunger while wretched mothers, trembling with cold, are trying to find covering and food for their naked and starving children.

The situation is desperate as all the pharmacies are burned down and there is a total lack of medicines for the sick and bandages for the injured.

The Greek authorities in Saloniki are rushing foodstuffs, clothing and medicine to the stricken town.

10,000 PRISONERS CAPTURED BY GREEKS—GUNS ALSO WERE SEIZED

LONDON, July 14.—The Daily Telegraph correspondent with the Greek army says that the Greeks have captured 12 guns and 10,000 prisoners. A

MAN SAID POLICE OFFICER WAS CRAZY

Defendant in Court Interrupts Officer Who Was Testifying—Many Cases Disposed Of

Napoleon Charest entertained the habits of the police court this morning for fifteen or twenty minutes when his case was called for trial. "Are you guilty or not?" asked Clerk Toye. "Not guilty, Mister," answered the defendant, "if you don't believe me ask me."

Officer Jerry Ryan informed the court that the defendant was drunk last night and that he also was in a very pugilistic frame of mind. It required the combined efforts of three men to separate him from another drunk on Moody street. "That man is sure crazy," said Charest, turning his attention to Superintendent Welch. "Didn't I only get out of jail last Thursday and what for would I be doing drinking again as quick as

PLUNGED THROUGH FLAMES TO SAFETY

Girls Also Panic Stricken in Roxbury Fire Today—Four Story Building Destroyed

BOSTON, July 14.—A four-story brick building in the Roxbury district, formerly occupied by the Howard Watch & Clock Co. but recently rented by a number of small clothing firms, was badly damaged by fire today. Several hundred employees reached the street hastily but without injury. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Fifty girls who were in a small portion of the building still occupied by the watch and clock company were almost panic stricken when the smoke began to filter through the doors. The stairs were filled with smoke and flames were bursting through the partitions when they ran down three stories to the street.

WYMAN'S EXCHANGE IS SOLD

There have been a great many rumors of changes in the Wyman's Exchange property and so many inquiries that The Sun repeats here an item which appeared in the real estate transactions some weeks ago. The facts in the case are as follows:

The large piece of property at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, known as Wyman's Exchange, has changed hands and is now the property of a trust known as the Wyman's Exchange trust.

The building and land were formerly owned by Helena M. Treat, Anna M. Elmonds, Frances E. Treat and Edward O. Sanderson. Last April one-fifth of the property owned by Helena M. Treat was conveyed to Thomas J. Bryant of Medford by the former's guardian, George W. Flagg, for the sum of $30,000. At the same time also Anna Elmonds and Frances E. Treat of Waltham, as well as Edward O. Sanderson of Pittsfield, in consideration of one dollar, transferred their share of the property, four-fifths, to the said Thomas J. Bryant.

On the same date Thomas J. Bryant sold a certain portion of the property to William Warren Vaughan of Boston, and George Washington Flagg of Keene, N. H., and a trust was formed.

the same to be known as the Wyman's Exchange trust. The City Institution for Savings holds a mortgage of $60,000 on the property.

THE NEW ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE ON STEVENS ST. NOW COMPLETED AND SOON TO BE OCCUPIED

THE NEW ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE ON STEVENS STREET

The new St. Peter's Orphanage, Lowell's most recently constructed, magnificent and up-to-date combined home and educational institution for destitute boys and girls of the English speaking parishes throughout the city, is now practically complete, and will be ready for occupancy in about a fortnight. The structure with all of its accompanying advantages and beautiful features reflects the aim of the Catholic pastors to afford the best accommodations to the homeless children. The new institution will rightly be a source of pride to the city.

This orphanage, when the last finishing touch has been made, will be absolutely free from debt, because of the arrangements for the securing of a fund sufficient to cover the cost of construction. A fund had been left by the late Rev. Father Ronan, former pastor of St. Peter's church, it is said, but was insufficient for the purpose. Twenty-six thousand dollars additional were needed for the building and its equipment. William Cardinal O'Connell provided for the raising of this amount by a careful distribution

KILLS WIFE, 3 CHILDREN AND SELF

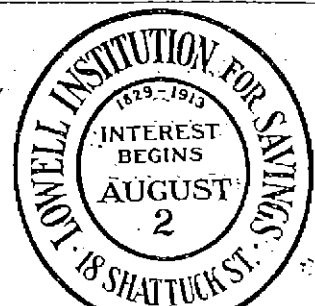

Connellsville, Pa., Miner Said to be Jealous Kills His Entire Family

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., July 14.—George Mehallism, a Polish miner, early today shot and killed his wife, Dorothen, and their three children, Ernan, aged 8, Anthony, aged 3, and Andrew, aged 6, at their home in Trotter, a mining village one mile from here. He then killed himself. Jealousy was assigned by neighbors as the cause of the tragedy.

MAD DOG BIT SIX CHILDREN

Excitement in Wilmington—Beast Finally Beaten to Death—Victims Will be Treated at Tewksbury

WILMINGTON, July 14.—A mongrel, the star-board of health in order to bound, thought to be mad, yesterday afternoon in a wild run of two miles about the town, bit six children and drove a score of people, whom he chased, to seek safety in houses and doorways about the streets.

A number of men armed with shotguns chased the dog and fired several shots at the animal but none hit. The animal was finally taken by the town ward Haskell, who arrived with an iron bar, fought the dog for fully 15 minutes before he struck the death blow on the beast's head.

The animal's head has been sent to

Colonies March —Many of Injured Will Die

PARIS, July 14.—The presence of detachments of native regiments from the French colonies in Africa, Tonkin, Annam and Madagascar lent unusual interest today to the annual review at Longchamp of the garrison of Paris by the president of the republic on the occasion of the anniversary of the taking of the Bastille in 1789. President Poincare was greeted on his arrival at the immense racetrack by one of the largest crowds that ever attended the military spectacle.

PRES. WILSON MEETS R. R. MEN

In Attempt to Avert Strike Involving 100,000 Men and 45 Eastern Roads—Walkout Delayed

NEW YORK, July 14.—Those conversant with railway matters in Washington are hopeful of a favorable outcome of the conference with President Wilson through which officers of the National Civic Federation railroad, representatives and officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors were to seek a solution of the wage demand crisis involving nearly 100,000 men and 45 eastern roads. The roads having refused to arbitrate under the Erdman act in its present form and the employees having refused to modify their demands, apparently the only way out lay in a change of the law by increasing the number of arbitrators from three to six, thus eliminating the railroad's chief objection to the act.

With a strike authorized by an overwhelming majority and ratified by general committees of both unions, Presidents Lee and Garretson of the trainmen and conductors respectively were authorized last night to delay calling a walkout pending the outcome of the Washington conference. Both left for Washington last night.

The conference committee of railroad managers went into session shortly after 10 o'clock and received from the unions formal notification that the strike vote was ratified yesterday. The statement, in the form of a letter, was substantially the same as given out by Messrs. Lee and Garretson yesterday and set forth that the general committees of the unions have authorized Lee and Garretson to "fix the hour at which these organizations will retire from service."

Here the letter adds that Lee and Garretson have at the earnest solicitation of "disinterested interests" been authorized to attend today's conference at Washington.

The general committee of 100 is still here. Lee and Garretson expect to return to New York tomorrow. Before leaving they said that the hour for calling the men out in the event no settlement could be reached, was unknown to anybody outside of themselves.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Whether a strike of trainmen and conductors of the eastern railroads may be avoided was the subject of a conference at the White House today between President Wilson and representatives of the employees and the railroads concerned. President Wilson, Chairman Newlands of the senate interstate commerce committee, Chairman Clayton of the house judiciary committee, Secretary Wilson, and Republican Leader Mann represented the government. President Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania, President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, President Stevens of the Chesapeake & Ohio, President Brown of the New York Central lines and Frank Trumbull, chairman of the board of Chesapeake & Ohio representing the railroads. President A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors and W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen represented the employees.

Both Lee, president of the Civic Federation, which has endorsed the Newlands bill for amending the Erdman act to provide arbitration of railroad wage disputes in a manner satisfactory to the railroad men also was expected to take part in the conference.

Pres. Wilson Meets Railroad Men

Today's conference concerns chiefly two bills pending in congress for amendment of the Erdman act providing means for arbitration of wage disputes. It is understood that both the Brotherhoods and the railroads are satisfied with the Newlands bill already passed by the senate but the Clayton bill introduced in the house largely at the instance of Secretary Wilson is not so satisfactory. The latter proposes that the secretary of labor should be included as one of the official mediators.

There has been considerable objection to that feature. Chairman Clayton of the house judiciary committee who was one of the LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 14.—Meddlesome youths who played with the train whistles were the cause of the loss of twelve lives and the injury of some 200 persons in a wreck here last night when two Pacific electric trains collided, telescoping two cars and wrecking another at Vineyard station near the city limits. Many of the injured will die.

Three trains loaded with excursionists to the beach at Venice, 16 miles from Los Angeles, had stopped at a curve where a switch is turned. The last train began moving forward while the two foremost trains remained at a standstill. Carroll Bartholoma, conductor of the last car of the center train, jumped to the track with his light to flag the approaching train. Some youths, passengers say, pulled the whistle in jest. This, it was said, by railroad men was interpreted by the motorman of the on-coming train as the signal to go ahead.

Cries of Passengers

With a crash of breaking glass, splintering timbers and the cries of passengers, the motor car of the last train drove into the rear of the center train. The motorman of the moving train had given full speed. A curve had prevented him seeing the standing cars. The rear of the stationary train was filled to capacity and the aisles were crowded and the seats were shuffled at a deck of cards by the impact. Those who stood were crushed against each other into the far end of the car. The lights went out.

Arthur Hill, a sailor from the torpedo boat Paul Jones, carried out eight bodies, including a woman gripping an infant's body in her arms. Practically all of those killed and injured were residents of Los Angeles and suburbs.

THE TEXTILE SCHOOL

Criticised by Prominent

Mill Worker

The following communication is from a well known mill operative who is skill in various lines of textile manufacture should entitle him to a high position:

Lowell, July 14, 1913.

Editor Lowell Sun:
Dear Sir: Your article in Saturday's issue on the Lowell Textile school, was a very timely discussion of a question that should interest everybody in Lowell and especially textile operatives.

As a textile operative I have wondered for years why the press of Lowell did not wake up to the true standing of the textile school as regards the benefit derived from it by Lowell operatives. There are scores of operatives in the mills of Lowell who have graduated from the evening classes, competent to fill all the different jobs in textile manufacturing, having the practical training week in and week out in the factory, when a vacancy occurs, instead of promoting such operatives, they invariably engage some young man, the son of an agent, superintendent, or some rich man to fill the vacancy, with very little more than a theoretical experience and it is to encourage such operatives to workmen to train and study hard for a promotion when this state of affairs exists. Very often competent men have to leave the mills to go to other places where they can get a better chance of advancement.

It is refreshing even at this late day to see The Sun take up this question of promoting the operatives' money for this school. There have been rumblings of dissatisfaction among mill operatives in Lowell on this question for years, but somehow nobody cared to start the agitation against the annual appropriation. I hope before the money is given to the school next year a public hearing will be granted on the matter.

Thanking you for the space for these few words,
Respectfully yours,
Textile Operative.

CHILD FELL 3 STORIES

Medford Boy Dropped to Sidewalk—Uninjured

MEDFORD, July 14.—A 3-year-old boy, a state ward in charge of Mrs. Nellie Brent of 5 Salem street, last evening fell three stories from the brick block at the corner of Salem street and Riverside avenue, to the sidewalk, but suffered practically no injuries, except a few bruises to the face.

The child, who, according to Mrs. Brent, was asleep in a room in the third story, got up and went to the window. Leaning out too far, he partially lost his balance and hung for a moment half way out, grasping the sill and clinging with both hands until his strength gave out.

The child's predicament was seen by Dr. James E. Cleaves, who residence is on the opposite side of Salem street. He shouted to Patrolman William Golding, who was standing in Medford sq., just as the child let go and fell.

Both officer and physician rushed to the spot expecting to pick the boy up dead. The little fellow struck on his abdomen, however, and though stunned was safe and sound except for a slight bruise.

Mrs. Brent was greatly agitated over the affair. She did not know about the accident until the police notified her. She refused to give the child's name on the ground that its mother would be alarmed when the accident was published.

BALLOONIST UNINJURED

Jumped From Burning Gas Bag Just in Time

VALLEY CITY N. D., July 14.—Flames enveloped the balloon of M. A. Evans yesterday when it had reached a height of 1000 feet and the man clung to the craft until six hundred feet from the ground that he might safely release the parachute. The balloon burst a moment after he jumped. He was uninjured.

DIVORCES, TANGO TEAS AND DRESS CRAZE DESCRIBED BY SOCIETY WOMAN

Mrs. HERBERT SHIPMAN

NEWPORT, R. I., July 14.—Among the smart but not ultra fashionable entertainers here is Mrs. Herbert Shipman, wife of Rev. Dr. Shipman, a prominent Episcopal rector among the Four Hundred of New York city. Mrs. Shipman has pronounced views about the society colony here. She says Newport is not as black as it's painted, despite the ridiculous frivolities of many of the very faddish matrons. She sees good in it. Mrs. Shipman is the heiress of the Edson Bradleys of New York, who maintain a magnificent home in Washington and entertain lavishly. "I have no fads," she is quoted as saying. "I believe the great majority of the Newport women are sensible, charming and lovable. They do not think more of their pet dogs than they do of their children." Mrs.

Roosevelt On Long Trip

WILLIAMS, Ariz., July 14.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt will rest at Grand Canyon three or four days before starting on a 150 mile ride. He was met here yesterday by Nicholas Roosevelt, his nephew, who had been arranging the trip. The former president plans to cross the canyon by muleback, hunt bear and mountain lions for a week or two and then ride to Gallup, crossing the Colorado river at Lee's Ferry.

Miss Pankhurst Released

LONDON, July 14.—Sylvia Pankhurst was released from Holloway jail last night as the result of her hunger strike. Miss Pankhurst was sentenced on July 5 to three months' imprisonment for incitement to commit disorders on June 29, when she led a mob to Downing street to attack the official residences of the ministers.

HOME WAS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

House and Furniture of V. T. Lanthier of East Chelmsford Burned—Other Fires

The home and contents of Van T. Lanthier, situated near Carleton street, East Chelmsford, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The blaze broke out about 1 o'clock while the family were away and no part of the furniture was saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanthier left the house about noon and within an hour the neighbors discovered that the rear part of the building was a mass of flames. The Chelmsford fire department was summoned and although they made a quick response the blaze could not be checked and both building and contents were totally destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is believed that it started from a stove which was used during the morning.

A strong wind was blowing at the time and sparks were carried several hundred yards. The grass caught fire in several places and the fire department was busy in protecting the houses in the vicinity. At one time it was thought that the house owned by John Robinson would catch from the grass fire, but the volunteer firemen extinguished the blaze after hard work.

The loss is estimated at about $3500 and it is said that this is partly covered by insurance.

Fire on Butler Avenue

A stubborn blaze broke out in the tenement property of Isaac Greenberg at 45 Butler avenue yesterday morning. The blaze originated in the rear part of the building and before the fire apparatus arrived it had spread to the front and for a time it was believed that the entire building would be destroyed. Several pieces of hose were put into use and the fire was soon under control. The loss is said to be about $100.

A chimney fire in a house at 716 Central street was responsible for a telephone alarm about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The blaze was soon extinguished with the damage confined to the chimney.

Another fire broke out on the land owned by the city of Lowell yesterday afternoon, but the department had no trouble in putting out the blaze.

A lighted match or cigar stub thrown into a pool of gasoline which in some way had been spilled on Jackson street, near the Hamilton Manufacturing company, illuminated that district of the city about 7:30 o'clock last night. The fire was called and the fire was immediately put out.

A telephone alarm called the fire apparatus to the corner of Hildreth and Coburn streets about 8:30 o'clock last night, where a tree was on fire. When hose 12 arrived on the scene the fire had been extinguished by some men who were in the vicinity.

FRANCE MAKES REQUEST

To U.S. for Assistance in Perfecting Powder

WASHINGTON, July 14.—War department officials have been placed in an embarrassing position it became known yesterday, by a request from agents of the French government for assistance of the department's ordnance bureau in perfecting the smokeless powder now used by the French army and navy. A series of unexpected disastrous explosions in the French magazines aboard ship and ashore is said to have led to this request, which is quite unusual in view of the consistent plans made by most nations to protect the secret of their powder. The war department buys all powder under contract from an American-African company and this corporation has protested vigorously against the disclosures of its secrets to foreign governments. The French government, asserting that from patriotic motives it had previously rejected overtures from this foreign government to sell it powder or to establish a powder factory in France.

Garham Street Methodist Church.
The services at the Garham Street Methodist church yesterday were very largely attended. In the morning the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews delivered an eloquent sermon on "The Perpetual Flame." The Sunday school session was also well attended. The evening service was most impressive, being an observance of the World's Sunday School day, and the usual program was carried out under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. Joseph Wilcox. The Christian Endeavor prayer service has been added to the regular Wednesday evening devotional service during July and August.

20 BUILDINGS BURNED

Disastrous Fire in Syracuse—Loss $600,000

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 14.—A bonfire started by two Italians in a lumber yard back of a garage started a fire which did more than $600,000 damage to 20 buildings. Practically the whole plant of Kane & Hotch, machinery manufacturers, was ruined. W. S. Kane, a member of the firm, was overcome by smoke while trying to save valuable patterns. He was rescued by firemen. Eleven residences and the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church was badly damaged.

Some time, Fri., No. Billerica.

ON BAPTIST MISSION

Rev. Dr. Emory Hunt at First Baptist Church

Rev. Dr. Emory W. Hunt occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. He spoke on "The Expansion of Christianity," having reference to the progress of mission work and also to the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the work of Adoniram Judson. Dr. Hunt is general secretary of the Foreign Mission society, having taken up the duties of his new position, July 1.

"The expansion of Christianity in this country, and abroad in the last 100 years," he said, has been wonderful.

The distinction between home and foreign missions is fast disappearing and the man who does not believe in foreign missions is having a very hard time. Cuba we call foreign, but the Philippines, a home mission country. The fact is that home missions cannot reasonably exist without foreign missions, and the reverse is also true. The great need of foreign missions now is a better type of Christianity at home. The greatest impediment to foreign missions is the low type of Americans and English representatives of supposedly Christian countries that go to the countries where we are trying to do missionary work. The purpose of missions is not to change native customs, not to defeat a competitive religion but to teach men how to live with relation to each other. That's the big business of Christian missions today, and the man who does not believe in this, does not believe in Christian work anywhere.

THE PERRY CENTENNIAL

The Second Week of Celebration

ERIE, Pa., July 14.—The Niagara, rebuilt from the bulk of the original of Oliver Hazard Perry, which won the battle of Lake Erie, Sept. 10, 1813, left this port last night. The brig reached Fairport this morning, where the second week of Perry's victory centennial will be celebrated. The Niagara was towed by the U. S. training ship Wolverine of Erie in command of Capt. Wm. L. Morrison. The Niagara is carrying a crew of 12 men. The brig is in full rig but the sails cannot be used. Late in September the Niagara will be returned to Erie, where it will remain.

ARM BROKEN IN FIGHT

Street Battle in Wakefield—One Stabbed

BOSTON, July 14.—White mixed up in a free for all fight in Wakefield late last night, Leonardo Bonasanti of 7 Blossom street, had his arm broken while Antonio Muccio, of 5 Willey place, was cut twice in the back and although not seriously injured had to be taken home.

The fracas took place in the rear of the car barn on Water street, Wakefield, and was witnessed by a large crowd, many of them being friends of the pair.

The police were notified of the affair and Chief Pollard and Officer Deroche immediately hurried to the scene. They arrested the two injured men, but a doctor, on examining Muccio, ordered his removal to his home. Bonasanti will be arraigned in the district court today.

CHELMSFORD

Elmer E. Hildreth died Saturday at his home after a long illness. Deceased was 42 years of age and a life long resident of Chelmsford. He was a son of the late Benjamin M. Hildreth and besides his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Hildreth, he leaves a sister, Velma, his wife, and two sons, Clifford and Frederick.

The members of All Saints' Sunday school and parish enjoyed a picnic at Ryan's grove on the shore of Hart pond on last Saturday.

Charles A. Holbrook, principal of the high school, together with his family is spending a few weeks vacation at Point Island.

ASSAULT ON TARIFF REVISION BILL PULLED OFF CARS AND BEATEN

Sen. McCumber Charges Democrats With Kicking American Farmer Into the Gutter

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, opened the republican assault on the democratic tariff revision bill in the senate today, defending the farmers of the country against the free listing or great reduction in tariff rates on agricultural products, and charging the democratic party with deliberately "kicking the American farmer into the gutter."

"In this year, 1913," said Senator McCumber, addressing the democrats "you are about to commit a greater crime against the American farmer than has ever been perpetrated by any political party against any class of people during any period of recorded history."

"With violent hands you are about to strip him of every advantage which the changed conditions of home supply and demand have about to yield to him. You have declared that he is an outcast in the land which he has made, the only one of all the classes of American people who is not entitled to any consideration at your hands. You have insulted his sense of fairness, slapped him in the face and kicked him into the gutter."

The bill, Senator McCumber declared, seemed to have been conceived in animosity against every American industry that needed protection from the American farmer as the "special object of his choler and hate."

"It is because of his past political affiliation that you are heaping upon him the vengeance for all your previous defeats? Or do you consider yourself to be the instrument through which Providence is to work its punishment because in the last political campaign he forgot the faith of his fathers and went chasing after a strange god, with cloven hoofs and braying antlers? If he is to be punished for his heresy, are you the proper person to inflict the punishment? You are the beneficiary of the farmer's infidelity to his own party last fall. And for you, now to be his executioner for the offense of being misled by you strikes me as being one of the most cold-blooded propositions I have ever heard of."

It was the democrats, Senator McCumber declared, who told the farmer that he had been wronged by Mr. Taft because the former president sought to "trade off his protection for reciprocal tariff reductions by Canada" and it was the democrats who tried to convince the farmer that the republican party was not to be trusted and that they, instead, should be entrusted with his interests. The reciprocity proposition, the senator argued, had one virtue, in that it proposed to get something for surrendering nothing, while the democrats proposed to trade away the farmer's interest in everything "for absolutely nothing."

"The reciprocity proposition," he continued, "subjected the farmer to the free competition of Canada only. You subject him to the competition of the whole world—all of Canada, Australia, Venezuela, Argentina, Cuba, the Philippines and every other country on the face of the earth that may want to dump its products into a market that belongs by right to the American farmer."

Admit Injury to Farmer
Senator McCumber asserted that the democrats admitted the tariff bill would injure the farmer, contending that he received too much for his products and must be compelled to sell them cheaper, and charged that the democrats "know that your claim that you are going to benefit the consumer is false and demagogic in the extreme." The senator submitted statistics seeking to show that the tariff did not affect the price of farm products to the consumer and, again addressing the democrats, said:

"Your ears are closed to every appeal for justice for the tiller of the soil. You are reaching a point where your income is unable to keep pace with your extravagances, and you are asking the farmer to make good the deficit by reducing the price of his products. It never occurs to you that the proper place to begin economy is on the luxuries, the unnecessary of life. You declare to him that the American people are paying $1,000,000 a year for meat, and you say that is too much. He answers, 'They are also paying $2,000,000 a year for hogs. Cut your liquor bill half and you will save enough to buy all your meat.' You declare they are paying $335,000 a year for flour. He replies, 'They are paying $300,000,000 for tobacco. Cut your tobacco bill half and your flour is free.' You declare they are paying $225,000,000 a year for potatoes. He replies, 'They are paying $500,000,000 for theatres and amusements. Cut your amusements half and your potatoes are free.' You declare they are paying $200,000,000 a year for butter and eggs. He replies, 'They are spending $300,000,000 a year for confectionery.' His replies are unanswerable. 'They are so many monuments rearing in clear black letters into your eyes an indictment of your own criminal extravagances and high living.'

The North Dakota senator asserted that prices would be lower after the tariff bill becomes law, but that it would be because of the inability of the public to pay higher prices and because of the "general stagnation of business" brought about by the tariff bill.

"The farmer may be slow, but he is quite sure," continued the senator, "he may forget, but the hard raps of poverty can log his memory. Once past this accused measure, and before 1914 he will be fully awake to the realization of the offense committed against him. Pass this bill and unless this cut-throat policy which annihilates the republican party in 1912 continues there will not be a democratic state in the whole north. It took the sixteen years to forget the last democratic policy. Pass this bill and the generation living will never forget you."

Strikebreakers at Lexington Attacked by Strikers—Passengers Put Off Cars

LEXINGTON, July 14.—Wildest disorder marked the attempt of the Kentucky Traction Co. to operate cars with strike breakers today, and as a result an appeal has been made for state troops. The new men were pulled off the cars as soon as they reached the heart of the city. One car was filled with passengers but every one was ejected by the strikers. Another car was burned on the tracks and the company abandoned its efforts by eight o'clock. A score of arrests were made and a number of strike breakers and deputy sheriffs were beaten.

THREE BOYS BROKE INTO CAR

No. Chelmsford Lads Enter Car Used by Track Men and Strew the Effects Around

Three North Chelmsford boys took a frolic last night which may cost them dear before they get through with it. Seeing a car on the siding at North Chelmsford last night and knowing that nobody was around to watch them, the three boys stealthily approached the car and, after a moment's hesitation, they broke into it. The car was empty, except for a few tools and a small box. The boys, who were about 12 years old, were seen by a track man when he came to the car to get his tools. He called out to them, but they fled. The car was found with its doors open and its contents scattered about. The boys were not seen again.

After gaining an entrance the young chaps decided to have a little fun at the expense of the men whose belongings were strewed around the car. Everything was looked over, although nothing has been reported missing as yet, and what couldn't be gotten at easily was made to yield to the whims of the boys.

ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE

of apportionments to the various English speaking parishes of the city, thus St. Peter's, St. Patrick's and the immaculate Conception parishes were assessed $5,000 each; St. Michael's and the Sacred Heart parishes were assessed $4,000, while St. Columba's and St. Margaret's were directed to raise $1,500 apiece.

The new structure is located in Stevens street, within the limits of St. Margaret's parish, though as is well known, it is not a parish institution but rather one for the English speaking parishes of the city in general. All of the construction work is now complete and the painters are rapidly finishing their work on the interior. The authorities at the temporary orphanage in Chelmsford street are making preparations to move into the new home at an early date. At the temporary institution, only girls are accommodated, there being at present about 50 inmates. The new orphanage, however, both boys and girls will be admitted, for the building is a large one and most conveniently fitted up to harbor about 150 or more children.

The boys are now for the most part in the French orphanage and as soon as the new institution in the Highlands is opened they will be transferred to that place. It is expected that at the very outset there will be very nearly 150 boys and girls at the institution, for even now the number of applicants is extremely large.

A word concerning the building itself. It is a three-story, solid and fire-proof construction. The plans have been drawn up by Architect Henry Reurke. On the ground floor are the refectory for the boys and girls and also the Sisters' dining-room. On this floor are also located the parlors, visitors' reception rooms, office, etc., and the chapel, the latter being one of the most beautiful features of the entire institution. The second floor is given over almost entirely to class rooms and dormitory rooms while the third story is taken up by the four large dormitories. In the basement are fully equipped play rooms, two shower baths, a complete laundry room, the boiler room, etc.

The interior furnishings of the chapel, including the art windows, statues, etc., will in almost every case be donations from various people throughout the city. The entire interior of the building is of beautiful material and perfectly intact for the purpose for which it was designed. There are three acres of land with the building affording a fine out-of-door recreation ground for the children.

Cardinal O'Connell has appointed Rev. Charles Galigan, pastor of St. Margaret's church, to act as general director of the institution, and he has worked untiringly in its behalf. The Franciscan nuns will be in charge and the ages of the children will range from 5 to 12 or 14 years. They will receive the best preliminary education and general training.

There are few institutions which can exert an equaling it in the extent of the good work which they accomplish at the new St. Peter's orphanage and the latter will be a credit to the city of Lowell as well as a haven of refuge for the unfortunate boys and girls who are left homeless.

Patrick Conley was the contractor and the completeness with which every detail has been finished is a tribute to his skill and honesty.

FIRE DEPT. RECORDS

Mr. Barrett. The commissioner says he has never seen the records and the young lady who was clerk in the office of Chief Hosmer before Mr. Barrett was made king of the water department and fire works," says she never saw them.

There have been several hearings on the case and the last was held a few days ago in the mayor's reception room at city hall. Jackson Palmer on that day, asked for the records of the fire department for 1907, the year in which Mr. Green claims to have been discharged, but no records were given him. City Manager Owen Monahan and four or five of his trustees almost turned the hall upside down looking for the records, but failed to land them.

City Clerk Flynn didn't know anything about them. The city clerk was summoned as a witness in the Green vs. Barrett case when the matter was before the supreme judicial court in Boston and the city clerk has never fully recovered from the trip. He was loaded down with records for his instructions were to take "all records" along. Mr. Flynn should have used two or three of the city's automobiles to cart the books to Boston, but he didn't do it. He had to show as possible and just for that he decided to carry them. It was the rankest decision he ever made and he admits it. Kind friends assisted him with the books to the city hall to the Middlesex street station, but there were no kind friends to greet him or assist him at the other end and by the time he reached the state house he didn't look as if he would live to be over 50.

It was a long, hard pull from the North station to the state house and, worst of all, the records most sorely needed were not there—the fire department records for 1907. In order to obtain the records of removing Lowell's records to Boston, day after day, the court appointed an auditor to collect the evidence in the case and present it to the court. James J. Palmer, of this city was appointed auditor and the hearing held at city hall on Wednesday of last week was the first to be held before the auditor. The hearing was not completed because of the absence of the records in the city hall.

Since the hearing on Wednesday, Mr. Palmer, counsel for the petitioners, has made a formal demand upon City Solicitor Hennessy for the records, and this puts the city solicitor in a very unenviable position.

"Where are the records?" asks Mr. Hennessy and everybody at city hall says: "I don't know where they are."

Com. Barrett sits back and says he doesn't know anything about the records and cares less. "I don't have anything to do with the fire department in 1907," says Andy, and the solicitor, on bended knees, says: "For heaven's sake, Mr. Commissioner, help me to find the records." Nothing doing. Andy won't budge an inch and Owen Monahan comes back with the report that the fire department record for 1907 is not in city hall. "I'll swear to that," said Owen.

Just then the telephone rings and the commissioner answers the telephone. Something was being said about records and the city solicitor was looking hopeful. "Have they been found?" he asked as soon as the commissioner dropped the receiver. "No, two of the Burns' men who have been ransacking the chief's office at the central fire station say there are no records," said the commissioner, and then he offered the suggestion that it might be well to advise him.

"It's no joke," said Mr. Hennessy. "Why don't you get a duplicate, a copy of the records?" asked Mr. Barrett.

"What are you going to take the copy from?" said Mr. Hennessy. "That's so, I had forgotten that the original was missing," said Mr. Barrett.

"This is an important matter and you ought not to be facetious," said Mr. Hennessy as he turned away. Still wondering as to the whereabouts of the records, just what will happen when the records are not forthcoming at the next hearing before the auditor and in compliance with Mr. Palmer's demand remains to be seen.

TEST ICE CASE IN NASHUA

George E. Balcom Charged With Giving Short Weight in Two Instances By a Customer.

NASHUA, N. H., July 14.—It transpired yesterday that George E. Balcom has been placed under bonds for a hearing in the district court, July 24, on two complaints, brought under the laws of 1907, charging him with selling ice of less weight than that credited to the customer.

The complaint is Mrs. Asenath T. Burke, widow of Ex-Mayor Charles H. Burke, who lives at the south end of Main street. The complaint states that June 29 Balcom's driver delivered to her a piece of ice which she says weighed only 29 pounds and which was charged at 30 pounds. The other complaint stated that on July 9 she received a piece which she claims weighed 31½ pounds and which was charged at 35 pounds.

She laid the matter before Mayor William H. Barry, who caused City Solicitor Henri A. Burpee to bring the complaint against Balcom's driver delivered to her a piece of ice which she says weighed only 29 pounds and which was charged at 30 pounds. The other complaint stated that on July 9 she received a piece which she claims weighed 31½ pounds and which was charged at 35 pounds.

Balcom two years ago bought out his only competitor and since then has had a monopoly of supplying ice to consumers in this city.

REFUSED TO PAY FINE

Rev. Paul Drake Was Arraigned in Court

QUINCY, July 11.—Rev. Paul Drake, formerly of Saco, Me., refused to pay a fine of $15 imposed in the local court following his conviction for obstruction of the highway while making a speech yesterday in support of socialism.

He furnished $100 for an appearance in the superior court at Dedham in September.

LOWELL MAN PROSPERING IN N. Y.

Wm. A. Mooney, Formerly With the Electric Light Corp.

Head of Biggest Engineers' Union in Country

MR. WILLIAM A. MOONEY

William A. Mooney, formerly of this city and an employee of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation at its works on Perry street, has attained prominence in New York city in which he resides. Since leaving Lowell he has been happily married and is residing at Elmhurst, one of the suburbs of New York. He is head of one of the largest unions of engineers in New York city, or perhaps in the country, the membership totalling over 600. He has filled many important positions in connection with the order in which he is a recognized authority. Recently he made a flying trip to Lowell but had not time to meet one-twentieth of his friends. Needless to say he is as popular where known in New York as he was in Lowell.

HORRIBLE ATROCITIES

Belgrade despatch to the Telegraph says that the Serbian invasion of Bulgaria has been successful but was confined to the district between the frontier and the Piro-Kustendil line. The Serbians are advancing, making good progress. The Daily Mail's correspondent with the Serbians sends the following dispatch:

"There has been no fighting since Wednesday. The weather is wet and the roads heavy. A Russian photographer who visited the scene of Kirovsk battlefield gave evidence of the Bulgarians having mutilated, mangled and burned wounded."

The Constantinople correspondent of the Mail reports long negotiations between Turkey and Roumania and believes that an understanding has practically been reached. Roumania wants five torpedo boats, which Turkey is willing to lend on condition that Roumania supports her.

REFUGEES FROM SERRES SAY

BULGARIAN POLICE SET FIRE TO TOWN

SALONIKI, July 14.—Refugees from Serres assert that the Bulgarian police set fire to the town in several places on Thursday. While the fire was raging throughout the city the Bulgarian guns, mounted on the adjacent heights, bombarded houses lying foreign flags, notably the consulates which were crowded with fugitives, and poured shrapnel into the crowds of people fleeing from the city.

GREECE AND SERVIA HAVE AGREED TO AN ARMISTICE—

TURKS ADVANCE

LONDON, July 14.—There is no sign of peace at present. Greece and Servia have gone so far as to agree to an armistice. The Turkish army is advancing by forced marches from Thessaly and Bolair, apparently with the consent of Greece and Servia, to attempt the recapture of Adrianople and Thrace. Roumania is said to be proceeding to occupy a much larger extent of Bulgarian territory than she previously claimed and Greece is burning to avenge the Bulgarian massacre concerning which horrifying details continually appear in the official reports issued from Athens and Saloniki. According to these reports ears and fingers of Greek women still bearing rings and earrings were found in the pockets of Bulgarian prisoners. There is still talk of Russian interference, and it is reported from St. Petersburg that the powers in concert have notified the Sublime Porte that they will not permit military operations beyond the Enos-Midia line fixed by the London conference. But the European concert is slow in moving. No fresh fighting is reported and it appears that the rumors regarding a revolution in Sofia are without foundation. The Bulgarian government accuses Greece of enflaming false accounts of Bulgarian atrocities with a view to preparing the ground for future territorial claims and expresses itself as willing to submit the whole matter to an international investigation. An active campaign of criminalization regarding which side began the hostilities and accusations and denials of atrocity is going on between Bulgaria on the one side and Servia and Greece on the other. In Bulgarian circles in London it is announced that an agreement has been reached with Turkey to regard the Enos-Midia line as a provisional frontier, pending final deliberations by the international commission.

LOWELL SPLITS IN DOUBLE HEADER

Portland Takes First Game 11 to 5—Lowell Came Back and Won Second 7 to 1

Lowell divided a double header with Portland Saturday afternoon at Spaulding park, losing the first contest 11 to 5 and winning the second by the score of 7 to 1. Lowell was outclassed in the first game, but Finnegan pitched a great game in the second contest and did not allow Duffy's men to become dangerous at any stage. Although Portland got eight hits in Lowell's seven they were scattered, while Manager Gray's men landed on Wornwood hard in the second and sixth innings.

First Inning
Hickman opened with a single to center field. Merrill filed out to Clemens. Bowcock hit a high foul fly which Daly nearly smothered. Pumphey stroked Sullivan filed to Cawley.

Clemens was given a pass. Cawley filed out to King. DeGroat walked. Magee singled to center field and Clemens came home for the first score. DeGroat making third on a close decision while Magee ran to second. When Halstein went out Hickman to Pumphey, DeGroat scored. Miller fanned.

Score: Portland 0, Lowell 2.

Second Inning
King walked. J. Sullivan rolled an easy one to Adams who made a miscalculation throw to Halstein. Sullivan safe at first. Halstein having all he could do to stop the ball. Hayden sacrificed both men along, going out Cawley to Halstein. Jewel singled to left field and the first Portland runs were made when King and J. Sullivan romped home. Hickman singled to center field. Merrill walked, filing the bases. Bowcock lifted the sphere over the left field fence for a homer, scoring three Portland men ahead of him. Adams was removed from the pitcher's box and Zeiser replaced him. Zeiser handed Pumphey a pass. On a wild heave by Zeiser Pumphey went to second. Cawley threw out Sullivan at first, and on a bit of fast work by Halstein who threw to Cawley, Pumphey was retired at third.

Daly was put away by Jewel to Pumphey. Dee singled to left field. Zeiser hit one to Jewel and Dee was forced out by Jewel to Hickman and the latter completed a double play by throwing out Zeiser at first.

Score: Portland 6, Lowell 2.

Third Inning
Zeiser threw out King at first. J. Sullivan out to Dee to Halstein. Hayden stroked. Jewel was out at first when he rolled an easy grounder to Zeiser.

Bowcock caught Clemens' fly in short center. Cawley out J. Sullivan to Pumphey. DeGroat got a single to left field. Magee walked. Halstein hit to Hickman and Magee was retired on the latter's throw to Bowcock.

Score: Portland 6, Lowell 2.

Fourth Inning
Hickman filed to Clemens. Merrill beat out an infield hit to Miller. Bowcock fanned. Pumphey doubled to left field, sending Merrill to third. Rorty called Sullivan out on strikes.

Hickman threw out Miller at first. Daly was out at first when he grounded to Bowcock. Jewel handed Dee a pass. He went to second on a wild pitch and scored when Zeiser singled to center. Clemens was put away at first by Bowcock.

Score: Portland 6, Lowell 3.

Fifth Inning
King singled to center field and took second on Clemens' error. J. Sullivan, out Zeiser to Pumphey, sacrificed him along to third. Daly made a wonderful catch of Hayden's foul fly. Clemens caught Jewel's fly to center field.

Cawley stroked. DeGroat fanned. Magee filed out Sullivan. Halstein out at first. Hickman making the assist.

Score: Portland 6, Lowell 3.

Sixth Inning
Hickman out. Miller to Halstein. Zeiser hit Merrill and the latter went to first. Bowcock singled to left field advancing Merrill to third. Pumphey singled to right and Merrill scored. Bowcock went to third on the play. Sullivan struck out. Dee threw out King at first. Halstein saving the play by a nice pickup.

Miller died out to Hickman. Daly grounded out to Pumphey at first. Dee out. Hickman to Pumphey.

Score: Portland 7, Lowell 3.

Seventh Inning
J. Sullivan was passed. He was put away by Daly throwing to Dee when he tried to steal second. Hayden fanned. Cawley made a beautiful catch of Jewel's foul fly to the third base bleachers.

Zeiser walked. He tried to get to second when Hayden dropped a pitched ball but the Portland catcher quickly recovered and threw to Bowcock. Zeiser out. Clemens hit to Hickman, who juggled the ball and scored. Bowcock caught Rorty's fly to Hayden. DeGroat walked. Magee singled to right field and Clemens scored. DeGroat tried to make third and was called out on a very close decision.

Score: Portland 7, Lowell 4.

Eighth Inning
Hickman singled to right field. Merrill out. Zeiser to Halstein, sacrificed the runner to second. Bowcock doubled to left center, scoring Hickman. Pumphey singled to right field, scoring Bowcock. Rorty sent Pumphey to second when Zeiser made a balk toward first. Sullivan put the ball over the left field fence for a homer, scoring Pumphey ahead of him.

On King's error, Aubrey went to third and Clemens to second. Cawley foul flied to Hayden. DeGroat struck out. Magee died out to Sullivan.

Score: Portland 11, Lowell 5.

Ninth Inning
Thomas replaced Daly behind the bat at the opening of the ninth. Jewel fanned. Zeiser threw out Hickman at first. Merrill out. Sullivan to Halstein. Dee singled to left field. Aubrey batted for Zeiser, singled through first. Clemens singled to center, scoring Dee. On King's error, Aubrey went to third and Clemens to second. Cawley foul flied to Hayden. DeGroat struck out. Magee died out to Sullivan.

Score: Portland 11, Lowell 5.

LOWELL DEFEATED FALL RIVER

NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BUILDING

Committeeman Campbell, Says
Lowell Needs One—He Also
Favors Half-Time Schools

Asked if the school department would live within its appropriation this year, School Committeeman Campbell said it would be impossible. "The school department last year," said Mr. Campbell, "expended $120,000, and the department this year, too, has had to pay about $1500 for industrial school equipment which the committee had planned to purchase."

FIRE DEPT. RECORDS FOR 1907 MISSING

City Solicitor and Lawyer Palmer
Searching High and Low But Fail to Find Them

Jackson Palmer is looking for the records of the fire department of Lowell for 1907 and if you know anything about the records Jackson would be mighty glad to hear from you. They are wanted in connection with the case of William J. Green vs. Andrew E. Barrett, and Mr. Jackson Palmer is attorney for Mr. Green.

FOUR MEN ARRESTED Were Taken From Car in Bleachery Street

Patrick Degnan, 27, John Clark, 21, Joseph J. Hill, 20, and John J. Crimmins, 20, all of Lawrence, came to Lowell in a box car today, because no fares were demanded, and the quartet is enjoying a well earned rest at the police station.

Upon their arrival in this city they were met by Sgt. McCloughry and Officer Erawley and escorted to the station in the police limousine. Stepping from the freight car to the automobile one of them remarked that he had always been used well in Lowell, "but this," he said, "is the first time that I was ever treated to an automobile ride."

The Grays, according to the schedule, were to have travelled to Fall River today to meet the baseball team of that city there this afternoon. However, the game, in accordance with arrangements agreed upon by both managers, was transferred to Lowell and Spaulding park was the destination of a goodly number of followers of the Speed Boys. A strong northwest wind swept the field, interfering somewhat with the judging of the high ones by the outfielders.

At 3 o'clock the umpire had not yet put in an appearance and consequently Southern of the Fall River team gave the decisions on strikes and balls with Henderson of Lowell on the base decisions at the opening of the contest. Adams was in the box for the home team and Woodman for the visiting delegation. Lineup:

Lowell: Clemens, cf; Aubrey, ss; DeGroff, rf; Magee, lf; Halstein, 1b; Miller, 2b; Daly, c; DeG, 3b; Adams, p.
Fall River: 2b, Campbell; 1b, McGovern; cf, Courtney; 3b, Devine; 1f, Robinson; ss, White; rf, Fishburne; c, Weeden; p, Woodman.

First Inning: Adams threw out Campbell at first on an easy roller. McGovern was out and was thrown out, Daly to Aubrey, trying to make second. Courtney grounded out. Adams to Halstein. Campbell threw out Clemens at first. Aubrey flied out to Weeden. DeGroff converted a grounder to Devine into a hit by fast foot work on the trail to first. He stole second. Woodman's pitched ball being a wide one. Magee struck out.

Second Inning: Devine flied out to Clemens. Robinson flied out to "DeGroff. Adams threw out White at first. Halstein was safe at first on Campbell's error. Miller, going out, Woodman to McGovern, sacrificed Halstein to second. Daly singled to right center. Halstein going to third. On the first ball pitched, Daly went to second. DeG hit to Woodman, who threw to Devine and Halstein was declared out at third. Campbell threw out Adams at first.

Third Inning: Fishburne flied to DeGroff. Weeden and Woodman batted.

Clemens grounded to McGovern. Aubrey fanned. DeGroff hit a slashing single through the box. Woodman declining to get in front of it. Magee singled to right field and DeGroff went around to third. Halstein singled to left center field and DeGroff and Magee scored. Halstein stole second. Woodman hit Miller. Daly out, Campbell to McGovern.

Score: Fall River 0, Lowell 2.

Fourth Inning: Aubrey threw out Campbell at first and McGovern grounded out, Miller to Halstein. DeG made a fine stop and threw to first of Courtney's.

Lowell: Clemens, cf; Aubrey, ss; DeGroff, rf; Magee, lf; Halstein, 1b; Miller, 2b; Daly, c; DeG, 3b; Adams, p.
Fall River: 2b, Campbell; 1b, McGovern; cf, Courtney; 3b, Devine; 1f, Robinson; ss, White; rf, Fishburne; c, Weeden; p, Woodman.

grounded over the base, getting the runner at first.
DeG was retired White to McGovern. McGovern made a fine stop of Adams' grounder and threw to Woodman, getting Adams at first. White made easy work of Clemens' liner.
Score: Fall River 0, Lowell 2.

Fifth Inning: Adams threw out Devine at first. Robinson walked. White flied to Daly. Fishburne flied to Clemens. Aubrey singled to center field. DeGroff singled along the third base line and White Devine was throwing him out at first. Aubrey went to third. Magee singled to left, scoring Aubrey. Halstein knocked one to Campbell and Magee was forced out at second. Campbell to White. Miller flied out to Courtney.

Score: Fall River 0, Lowell 3.

Sixth Inning: Halstein made a one-handed catch of Aubrey's wide throw when Weeden grounded to short—Weeden out. Woodman struck out. Miller threw out Campbell at first.
Daly out, White to McGovern. Courtney caught DeG's fly in short center. Campbell made a sensational one-handed stab of Adams' hard drive.
Score: Fall River 0, Lowell 3.

Seventh Inning: Aubrey made a neat stop and threw to McGovern's grounder, getting the runner at first. Miller threw out Courtney at first. Devine singled to left field. Robinson flied out to Miller in short right field.
Clemens hit safely to right center and completed the circuit before the ball had been returned to the diamond. Aubrey flied out to Fishburne. DeGroff beat out an infield hit to Campbell but Henderson called him out. White threw out Magee at first.
Score: Fall River 0, Lowell 4.

Eighth Inning: Aubrey slipped up on White's grounder and the visiting runner was safe. DeGroff made a pretty catch of Fishburne's long fly to right center.

FUNERALS

LAVALLÉE—The funeral of Mrs. Cleophas Lavallée took place this morning from her home in Lakewood avenue. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Louis' church by Rev. Fr. Wooden was thrown out at first by Aubrey. White to second. On the play, Woodman singled to right field, scoring White. Campbell flied out to DeG. Halstein flied out to Fishburne. Woodman threw out Miller at first. Daly out, Campbell to McGovern.
Score: Fall River 1, Lowell 4.

CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL Legislative Committee May Take Up Matter

Why doesn't Lowell build a contagious disease hospital?
This is one of the questions to be thrashed out before the recess committee of the legislature tomorrow. Rep. Victor Francis Jewett of this city is a member of the committee, and the committee meets Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

The committee has the right to summon any and all persons to appear before it and Attorney General James P. Swift and the state board of health have been summoned to appear tomorrow. Later local board of health and the mayors of cities will be summoned.

The mission of the committee is to investigate tuberculosis in Massachusetts and the state board of health will be asked to tell why Lowell and other cities have not erected local isolation hospitals. The committee says that Lowell's violation of the law providing for a contagious disease hospital is a very flagrant one.

"The committee," said Rep. Jewett this afternoon, "is considering compulsory segregation of the incorrigible patients. Several states, including New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin had such a law put into effect this year. At the present time a tubercular patient might be sent from this city to the sanatorium at Rutland, but there is no law on the statute books that would oblige him to remain there."

The committee is also considering the advisability of examining school children for tuberculosis; also mill operatives in cities like Lowell. The committee is also engaged in the codification of the health laws of Massachusetts.

NO GLANDERS IN TOWN

It has been reported that there were several cases of glanders among horses of this city, and the rumor has greatly alarmed several owners of horses, for the disease is quite contagious. However, several veterinary surgeons of this city who were interviewed by the writer this afternoon said the city is practically free from this disease.

Glanders is a destructive disease among horses, asses and mules. It is characterized by: febrile symptoms, inflammation of the mucous membranes of the nose, with a constant discharge of sticky matter, and an enlargement and induration of the glands beneath and within the lower jaw. It ends fatally after an acute or chronic course. It may be transmitted to dogs, goats, sheep and human beings. Horses are immune.

GREEKS AND NEGROES IN RACE RIOT

Serious Battle in Peoria, Ill., Bricks, Clubs, Picks and Shovels
Used as Weapons

PEORIA, Ill., July 14.—Fifty Greeks employed on a railroad construction gang, started to march through the negro section of the city yesterday and a race riot was precipitated, which was stopped only by the prompt arrival of a squad of police. The warring factions were scattered and the injured removed to a hospital. One hundred negroes used bricks and clubs, while the Greeks used picks and shovels for weapons. Forty Greeks were taken to jail. Most of the negroes escaped.

MILITARY SPECTACLE IN PARIS 12 KILLED, 200 INJURED IN WRECK

Review by Pres. Poincare Today Boys Played With Whistles and —Troops From Many French Trains Collided in Los Angeles
Colonies March —Many of Injured Will Die

PARIS, July 14.—The presence of detachments of native regiments from the French colonies in Africa, Tonking, Annam and Madagascar lent unwonted interest today to the annual review at Longchamp of the garrison of Paris by the president of the republic on the occasion of the anniversary of the taking of the Bastille in 1789. President Poincare was greeted on his arrival at the immense racetrack by one of the largest crowds that ever attended the military spectacle.

After the presentation to the president of the colors of the forty regiments on parade and the inspection of their escorts, all the troops marched past. The native detachments were given the place of honor at the head of the column and received a tremendous ovation.

Another feature of the review which made a great hit with the onlookers was a detachment of military ambulance dogs, who marched past in perfect order.

During the review five army aeroplanes darted here and there over the heads of the troops and a military dirigible circled and maneuvered around the racetrack.

PRES. WILSON MEETS R. R. MEN

In Attempt to Avert Strike Involving 100,000 Men and 45 Eastern Roads—Walkout Delayed

NEW YORK, July 14.—These conversations with railway matters in Washington are hopeful of a favorable outcome of the conference with President Wilson through which officers of the National Civic Federation railroad, representatives and officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors were to seek a solution of the wage demand crisis involving nearly 100,000 men and 45 eastern roads. The roads, having refused to arbitrate under the Erdman act in its present form and the employees having refused to modify their demands, apparently the only way out lay in a change of the law by increasing the number of arbitrators from three to six, thus eliminating the railroad's chief objection to the act.

With a strike authorized by an overwhelming majority and ratified by general committees of both unions, Presidents Lee and Garretson of the trainmen and conductors respectively were authorized last night to delay calling a walkout pending the outcome of the Washington conference. Both left for Washington last night.

The conference committee of railroad managers went into session shortly after 10 o'clock and received from the unions formal notification that the strike vote was ratified yesterday. The statement, in the form of a letter, was substantially the same as given out by Messrs. Lee and Garretson yesterday and set forth that the general committees of the unions have authorized Lee and Garretson to "fix the hour at which these organizations will retire from service."

Here the letter adds that Lee and Garretson have at the earnest solicitation of "disinterested interests" been authorized to attend today's conference at Washington.

The general committee of 100 is still here, Lee and Garretson expect to return to New York tomorrow. Before leaving they said that the hour for calling the men out in the event no settlement could be reached, was unknown to anybody outside of themselves.

PRES. WILSON HOLDS CONFERENCE WITH R. R. MEN IN ATTEMPT TO AVERT STRIKE

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Whether a strike of trainmen and conductors of the eastern railroads may be avoided was the subject of a conference at the White House today between President Wilson and representatives of the employees and the railroads concerned.

President Wilson, Chairman Newlands of the senate interstate commerce committee, Chairman Clayton of the house judiciary committee, Secretary Wilson, and Republican Leader Mann represented the government. President Samuel Roca of the Pennsylvania, President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, President Stevens of the Chesapeake & Ohio, President Brown of the New York Central lines and Frank Trumbull, chairman of the board of Chesapeake & Ohio represented the railroads. President A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors and W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen represented the employees.

Seth Low, president of the Civic Federation, which has endorsed the Newlands bill for amending the Erdman act to provide arbitration of railroad wage disputes in a manner satisfactory to the railroad men also was expected to take part in the conference.

Pres. Wilson Meets Railroad Men

Today's conference concerns chiefly two bills pending in congress for amendment of the Erdman act providing means for arbitration of wage disputes. It is understood that both the Brotherhoods and the railroads are satisfied with the Newlands bill already passed by the senate but the Clayton bill introduced in the house largely at the instance of Secretary Wilson is not so satisfactory. The latter proposes that the secretary of labor should be included as one of the official mediators.

There has been considerable objection to that feature.

Chairman Clayton of the house judiciary committee who was one of the participants in the White House conference declared there was no disposition to press his bill against the Newlands bill, if it was apparent that both the railroads and their employees favored the Newlands measure.

"All we want," said he, "is to get the best legislation possible to meet the views of both sides."

Acceptance by the house of the Newlands bill as it has passed the senate which also has been approved by the Civic Federation would undoubtedly remove the possibility of a strike.

President Wilson on his arrival from Cornish, N. H., had before him a pile of documents on the situation, which he said he would examine before the conference.

While the president has taken no stand in the matter he let it be known that he did not regard as a serious obstacle the composition of the board of mediation, though he felt it was an important question. With the exception of the present strike the president had little present business before him and prepared to devote the entire day to the situation.

RAILROADS WILLING TO ARBITRATE UNDER THE NEWLANDS BILL

NEW YORK, July 14.—The railroads involved in the wage controversy with the trainmen and conductors issued a statement this afternoon through the conference committee of managers, saying that they would be willing to arbitrate the questions at issue under the provisions of the Newlands bill now before congress, but were still unwilling to act under the Erdman act. This is the roads' reply to the ultimatum submitted by the unions yesterday.

The O. M. I. Cadets will leave for their annual military camp on Tuesday, July 23 and are at present engaged in making preparations for the big event. The camp will, as in the past, be a strictly military affair with the usual discipline. Rev. F. Sullivan, O. M. I. spiritual director and general head of the organization will accompany the boys as will Lieut. McArdle, the military instructor of the cadets. Many enjoyable features have been planned. The camp will be held at William's grove in Wilmington, same as last year.

Grief of Passengers

With a crash of breaking glass, splintering timbers and the cries of passengers, the motor car of the last train drove into the rear of the centre train. The motorman of the moving train had given full speed. A curve had prevented him seeing the standing cars. The rear of the stationary train was filled to capacity and the slides were crowded and the seats were shifted as a deck of cards by the impact. Those who stood were crushed against each other into the far end of the car. The lights went out.

Arthur Hill, a sailor from the torpedo boat Paul Jones, carried out eight bodies, including a woman gripping an infant's body in her arms.

Practically all of those killed and injured were residents of Los Angeles and suburbs.

THE TEXTILE SCHOOL

Criticised by Prominent Mill Worker

The following communication is from a well known mill operative whose skill in various lines of textile manufacture should entitle him to a high position:

Lowell, July 14, 1913.

Dear Sir: Your article in Saturday's issue on the Lowell Textile school was a very timely discussion of a question that should interest everybody in Lowell and especially textile operatives.

As a textile operative I have wondered for years why the press of Lowell did not wake up to the true standing of the Textile school as regards the benefit derived from it by Lowell operatives. There are scores of operatives in the mills of Lowell who have graduated from the evening classes, competent to fill all the different jobs in textile manufacturing, having the practical training week in and week out in the factory, yet there has been no occasion of promoting such operatives. They invariably engage some young man, the son of an agent, superintendent, or some rich man to fill the vacancy, with very little more than a theoretical experience and it is discouraging to competent workers to find that the school is for promotion when the state of affairs exists. Very often competent men have to be bossed by young duffers who know little or nothing about the practical part of the business.

But in my opinion the school is fulfilling the purpose for which it was really created, that is, the furnishing of a textile education to rich men's sons so that they will not have to rub elbows with the ordinary man in all factories.

It is refreshing even at this late day to see the Sun take up this question of appropriating the taxpayers' money for this school. There have been rumblings of dissatisfaction among mill operatives in Lowell on this question for years, but somehow nobody cared to start the agitation against the annual appropriation. I hope before the money is given to the school next year a public hearing will be granted on the matter.

Thanking you for the space for these few words,
Respectfully yours,
Textile Operative.

CHILD FELL 3 STORIES

Medford Boy Dropped to Sidewalk—Uninjured

MEDFORD, July 14.—A 3-year-old boy, a state ward in charge of Mrs. Nellie Brent of 5 Salem street, last evening fell three stories from the brick block at the corner of Salem street and Riverside avenue, to the sidewalk, but suffered practically no injuries, except a few bruises to the face.

The child, who, according to Mrs. Brent, was asleep in a room in the third story, got up and went to the window. Learning out too far, he partially lost his balance and hung for a moment half way out, grasping the sill and clinging with both hands until his strength gave out.

The child's predicament was seen by Dr. James E. Cleaves, who residence is on the opposite side of Salem street. He shouted to Patrolman William Golding, who was standing in Medford sq. Just as the child let go and fell.

Both officer and physician rushed to the spot expecting to pick the boy up dead. The little fellow struck on his abdomen, however, and though stunned was safe and sound except for a slight bruise.

Mrs. Brent was greatly agitated over the affair. She did not know about the accident until the police notified her. She refused to give the child's name on the ground that its mother would be alarmed when the accident was published.

BALLOONIST UNINJURED

Jumped From Burning Gas Bag Just in Time

VALLEY CITY, N. D., July 14.—Flames enveloped the balloon of M. A. Evans yesterday when it had reached a height of 1000 feet and the man clung to the craft until six hundred feet from the ground that he might safely release the parachute. The balloon burst a moment after he jumped. He was uninjured.

27 PERSONS GO TO WATERY GRAVES

Man Drowned at Lakeview—8 in Boston, 9 in New York, 4 in Phila, 3 in Syracuse

Another drowning accident occurred in Lake Massacuppes yesterday forenoon, when a man named Adolpho Richer, a former resident of New Bedford, who recently removed to this city, lost his life while enjoying a dip. His companion tried to save him but his efforts were fruitless.

According to Trefle Pera, who was with Richer, the two went to Mountain Rock and secured a row boat. Richer plunged into the water and followed the boat which was being rowed by Pera. The latter claims Richer had a piece of tobacco in his mouth and he believes he suddenly swallowed the chew, for when he reached a point some distance from the shore, Richer threw up both hands and sunk to the bottom.

Pera made unsuccessful attempts to locate the body and finally sent word to Undertaker Joseph Albert of this city, who a few hours later recovered the body which was removed to his funeral parlors in Allen street.

Richer came to Lowell a short time ago and made his home at 127 Palace street. His relatives in New Bedford were notified of his death and they are expected in this city today.

B DROWNED WHEN YACHT TURNED TURTLE IN BOSTON HARBOR

BOSTON, July 14.—Eight men were swept overboard to their death and six others sensationally rescued in lower Boston Harbor late yesterday afternoon, when the 35-foot cabin sloop "Albatross" caught in a sudden squall, was upset.

The Dred:
MARTIN DISKEN, 37 Moulton street, Charlestown.
JOHN ROONEY, 35 Prospect street, Charlestown.
DANIEL COLE, 23 Chestnut street, Charlestown.
JEREMIAH CROWLEY, 55 Washington street, Charlestown.
MICHAEL O'NEIL, 55 Washington street, Charlestown.
JOHN HOLLAND, 86 Washington street, Charlestown.

SIC. OFFICER MORGAN, first officer of the Cymric, who was the guest of honor.
ALBERT G. AYERS, 110 Water street, superintendent of Sailors' Haven at Charlestown, the owner of the craft.

The Rescued:
John Dacey, 30, 12 Medford street, Charlestown.
Daniel Green, 42, 52 Tremont street, Charlestown.
Daniel Sullivan, 23, 19 Edgewood street, Charlestown.
Patrick Holland, 25, 56 Washington street, Charlestown.
Jeremiah O'Neil, 24, 56 Washington street, Charlestown.
John Downey, 23, 14 Sprague street, Charlestown.

The accident occurred three-quarters of a mile northeast of Ram's Head buoy in what is known as Broad Sound, about half past 5 o'clock, just as the party of men, all from Charlestown, were about to start for home after a day's fishing.

Up to late last night only one of the bodies had been recovered, that of John Holland of 86 Washington street, Charlestown. The prompt work of a small sloop, the Marv, manned by Patrick H. Clougherty of Dorchester, Captain William Turner and Joseph H. Martin of Boston, which was cruising about in the vicinity when the accident happened, undoubtedly was responsible for the saving of six of the men who were in the cold water, there fast losing strength.

There were 14 in the party, 12 neighbors in Charlestown, with an officer from the White Star liner Cymric as guest that set out from the White Star pier at 10 o'clock in the morning for a day's outing down the harbor in the new sloop Albatross.

A stiff wind was blowing from the southeast when the trip was started, but the men were good sailors and they did not mind the chop of the waves. They headed down towards the Exeter pier, and after leaving Charlestown they anchored off the Ram's Head buoy in Broad Sound, where they proceeded to fish.

All sails were down and although the sea became more choppy and the wind increased to a 31-mile gale around 2 o'clock, they enjoyed themselves to the utmost. There was a heavy drizzle at times, but it did not prevent the men from catching the most fish, and Captain Ayers was leading in silver hake, with John Holland a close second.

The rest of the men had dropped behind and they took sides and cheered their champions in the hot contest. At 4 o'clock the contest came to a close with Captain Ayers leading by three.

No Suspicion of Danger
For an hour they took things easy, strolling at anchor, and shortly after 5 o'clock preparations were made for the return trip. Puffy white clouds were hanging low on the horizon and the skipper ordered the mainsail hoisted. Even Second Officer Morgan of the Cymric, who is an expert on weather, had not the slightest suspicion of danger.

In the cabin at the time were Martin Disken, Jeremiah Crowley and Joseph Cole. The sail was half-raised and the anchor barge drawn by other men when a sharp puff of wind swept across the boat.

In quick succession came more blasts of wind, each stronger than the preceding one, and without warning the craft swung dangerously to the starboard side just as a rain struck her.

Craft Turned Turtle
In the flash of an eye she turned turtle. All on board with the exception of the three men in the cabin were hurled into the sea. The men in the cabin were drenched like cap rats, while out in the rough sea 11 men were fighting for their lives.

O'Neil was stunned and sank out of sight in the struggle. The men shrieked for help and the sloop Marv, under full call from the Brewsters, headed toward the wreck.

One by one the men sank beneath the water. Besides the overturned sloop John Holland had become entangled in the painter, and the more he struggled the more entangled he became. In the meantime the Marv swept up alongside.

The choppy sea made the work of rescue most perilous. By clever maneuvering man by man was snatched from the water as the craft circled about.

Aboard the rescuing boat the rescued men lay still and unconscious. No more bodies were in sight and the sloop headed for Deer Island.

Behind, unseen, still struggling in the tangled painter, John Holland fought for his life. A few moments later a small power boat manned by Carl Esso and Tony Viorra, passing along, saw the lifeless form of Holland hopelessly entangled in the ropes. The rescuers cut the body loose and followed in the wake of the Marv to Deer Island.

At the house of correction on Deer Island Dr. Crawford gave first aid. Most all of the men still remained unconscious and orders were sent to the health boat "Vigilant," which was on duty at Quarantine, to hurry to Deer Island in order to carry the survivors to Boston.

Just as the "Vigilant" arrived at the Deer Island wharf the small power boat steamed up to the wharf with the lifeless body of John Holland.

The survivors were carried aboard the "Vigilant" together with the body of Holland and the steamers started for Boston. All the way Dr. Crawford and members of the "Vigilant" crew worked over the men.

Captain Marcello Saffron of the "Vigilant" ordered his engineer to put on every pound of steam possible.

Police Rushed to Wharf
In the meantime word had been received at Station 1 in Boston. Sergeant McTiernan, a squad of 15 men, together with a patrol wagon and an ambulance were rushed to the Eastern avenue wharf where the "Vigilant" was to land. Ambulances from the Relief and City hospitals were quickly dispatched to the Boston wharf.

The news had traveled fast, for when the "Vigilant" docked over a thousand men, women and children were gathered at the wharf gate.

Survivors Will Recover
At the Relief hospital late last night it was said that all the survivors would recover.

Police, boats and countless other craft visited the scene of the tragedy just before sundown last night to search for the remaining seven bodies. Nothing but the wreck of the Albatross, whose rigging and sails had been torn to shreds, floated on the calm surface which only a few hours before had been a raging sea.

The search continued today.

33 EXCURSIONISTS HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING NEAR BOSTON

BOSTON, July 14.—Thirty-five excursionists, none of them women, were saved from disaster late yesterday when the New York city yesterday afternoon on to the Graves ledge, with a disabled crankshaft, was rescued by the auxiliary sloop "Success." The Hecla, a 45-foot cabin boat, had been chartered for a party from Waltham for a fishing trip.

NINE PERSONS DROWNED IN NEW YORK WATERS—MANY RESCUED

NEW YORK, July 14.—Nine persons were drowned and more than a score of others rescued in the waters adjacent to New York city yesterday. Among those who lost their lives were Michael N. Ariz, a wealthy manufacturer, who was drowned while bathing in Hempstead bay and Theodore Peterson and Guy Sandford, whose canoe was swamped in the Hudson river.

FOUR DROWNED, ONE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS NEAR PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Samuel H. Benson, retiring president of the city council of Wilmington, Del., was probably fatally injured and four other men were drowned yesterday in accidents in the Delaware river near this city.

The dead men are: William Brown, who slipped from a barge; Joseph O'Brien, who drowned in shallow water from a sailboat; Ralph Demott, who was endeavoring to recover a rowboat that had drifted away; Paul Wilson, who sank when a rowboat capsized; and one other man whose name has not been reported.

Benson received his injuries at Fenton's Beach, N. J., when he dived into shallow water, striking on his head.

THREE SYRACUSE WOMEN WERE WASHED OFF SANDBAR AND DROWNED

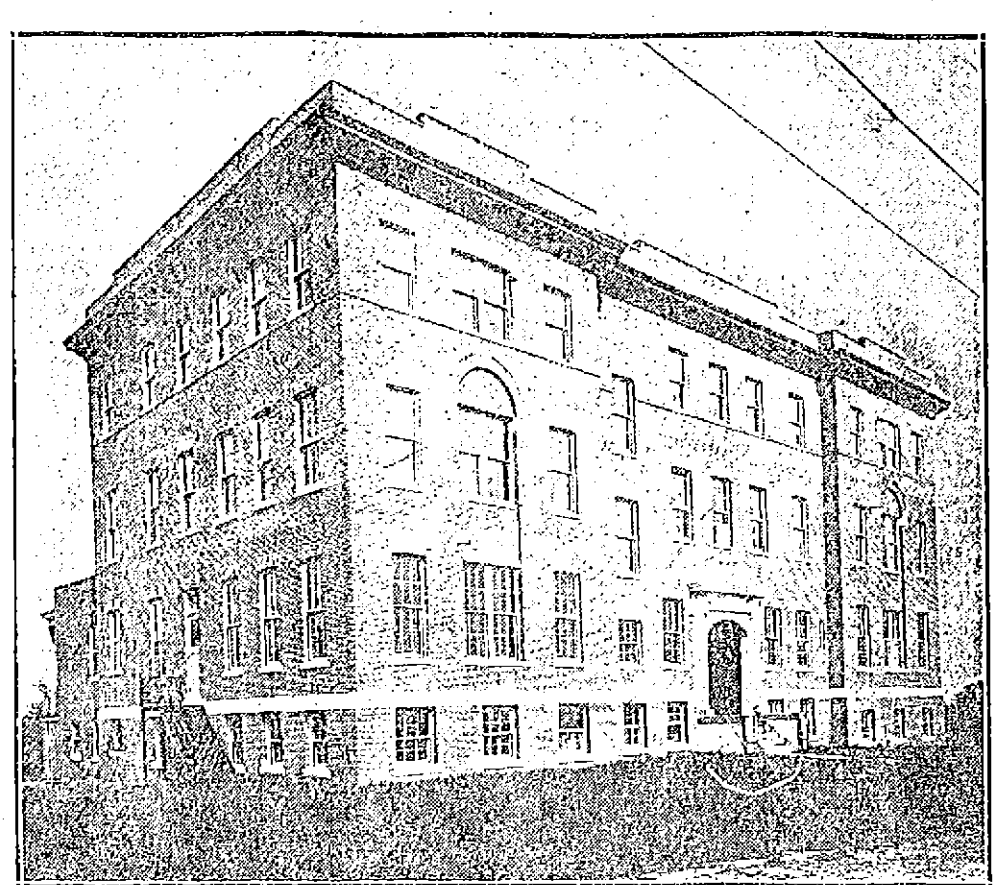

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 14.—Washed off a sandbar by a giant wave three Syracuse young women were drowned at Sylvan beach, Onondaga Lake yesterday afternoon before any of the 200 bathers nearby could reach them. The victims are: Miss Rose Sweeney, 23; Miss May C. Salter, 22; and Miss Catherine Punch, 20 years old. In company with nine other members of a girls' club in Syracuse they went in bathing although none could swim. They had waded some distance from shore when a comb swept the three victims off their feet. The bodies of Miss Sweeney and Miss Salter were found a quarter of a mile away from where they went down. At a late hour last night the body of Miss Punch was still in the lake.

BOSTON STUDENT WAS DROWNED WHILE BATHING IN MAINE

GARDINER, Me., July 14.—Bernard Higgins (colored), a Boston Latin school student who has been employed as a steward on the steamer City of Rockland, was drowned while bathing in the Kennebec river yesterday. His body was recovered. Hendon

TRADING LIGHT

ACTIVE STOCKS WERE LOWER AT OPENING

London Gave Cue for Market—Prices Hardly Varied During Morning—Possibility of R. R. Strike Has Effect

NEW YORK, July 14.—London gave the cue for the market at the opening today. Active stocks opened lower in keeping with prices abroad, although trading was light and the list was under severe pressure at no point. Canadian Pacific opened off a point and Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Amalgamated one-half. Buying orders were distributed at the lower level and prices quickly recovered to Saturday's close or slightly above. Canadian Pacific, however, slipped back to nearly the opening. Speculation was somewhat more active than on the closing days of last week, but the volume of business was still small.

Except for the small decline at the opening and the subsequent rise in prices stocks hardly varied during the morning. Ordinarily a Monday morning finds on hand a considerable accumulation of orders, but the total of the morning's trade was not enough to furnish half an hour's lively business. The possibility of a strike of conductors and trainmen on the eastern railroads restricted business pending the outcome of today's conference on that subject at the White House.

Bear traders discovered that the copper group was the weak spot in the list and succeeded in effecting some material reductions in these shares. The decline was accompanied by a revival of the rumor, frequently circulated in the last few months and as often discredited, that institution of a suit by the government against important copper interests was imminent.

The market closed heavy. The tactics of the room traders in offering down the favorite stocks failed to induce selling in volume and the decline was neither severe nor prolonged. Smelting rose fractionally above its low price. The remainder of the list grew steadier, although failing to rally.

Boston Market
BOSTON, July 14.—A number of local mining stocks advanced during the early trading today, although transactions were in small shares. The rise in Pond Creek from 17 to 18 1/2 at noon was the feature.

PRISONERS BROKE OUT AT IPSWICH—STILL AT LARGE

LYNN, July 14.—Police of Lynn, Salem, Swampscott, Ipswich and surrounding towns are searching for two prisoners who broke out of the Ipswich jail late yesterday afternoon.

The men, Frederick, alias "Brick" Sturtevant, a horse thief, said to have spent more than half his life in prison, and the first man convicted under the habitual criminal act, and Peleg McDonald have been seen near the farm of Joseph Porter in East Swampscott.

It was from Porter that Sturtevant stole the horse and buggy for which he has been serving time. When he was sentenced to two and one-half years the police say he made threats against Porter.

The two men were in the yard of the jail when they eluded their guards and got through the gates. Before an alarm could be given they had disappeared in the woods.

GIRLS PLUNGED THROUGH FLAMES

Almost Panic Stricken in Roxbury Fire Today—Four Story Building Destroyed

BOSTON, July 14.—A four-story brick building in the Roxbury district, formerly occupied by the Howard Watch & Clock Co. but recently rented by a number of small clothing firms, was badly damaged by fire today. Several hundred employees reached the street hastily but without injury. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Fifty girls who were in a small portion of the building still occupied by the watch and clock company were almost panic stricken when the smoke began to filter through the doors. The stairs were filled with smoke and flames were bursting through the partitions when they ran down three stories to the street.

WYMAN'S EXCHANGE IS SOLD

Heirs Disposed of it and it is Now Owned by the Wyman's Exchange Trust

There have been a great many rumors of changes in the Wyman's Exchange property and so many inquiries that The Sun repeats here an item which appeared in the real estate transactions some weeks ago. The facts in the case are as follows:

The large piece of property at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, known as Wyman's Exchange, has changed hands and is now the property of a trust known as the Wyman's Exchange trust.

The building and land were formerly owned by Helena M. Treat, Anna M. Simonds, Frances E. Treat and Edward O. Sanderson. Last April one-fifth of the property owned by Helena

M. Treat was conveyed to Thomas J. Bryant of Medford by the former's guardian, George W. Plagz, for the sum of $26,000. At the same time also Anna Simonds and Frances E. Treat of Waltham, as well as Edward O. Sanderson of Pittsfield, in consideration of one dollar, transferred their share of the property, four-fifths, to the said Thomas J. Bryant.

On the same date Thomas J. Bryant sold a certain portion of the property to William Warren Vaughan of Boston and George Washington Plagg of Ipswich, N. H., and a trust was formed, the same to be known as the Wyman's Exchange trust. The City Institution for Savings holds a mortgage of $40,000 on the property.

MULHALL REPLIES TO ATTACKS

Self Styled Lobbyist for 10 Years Interrupted Senate Committee to Make Statement

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Martin Mulhall, self styled lobbyist for ten years for the National Association of Manufacturers, interrupted the senate lobby investigation today to reply to what he declared were personal attacks upon his character and his purpose in the expose in which he has become the central figure in the lobby probe.

He denied he had tried to sell the great mass of papers and letters which were recently published and which now are in the hands of the senate committee. Later, he said, he hoped to introduce witnesses and letters to show he had been engaged for months in "trying to give away" the great list of correspondence which has brought officers of the National Association of Manufacturers and labor leaders and congressmen into prominence.

Mulhall's statement was made in connection with his request that he be allowed to read a letter he had written May 16, 1913, to Herrington Maxwell, editor of Hearst's magazine, urging him to have William R. Hearst make the mass of letters public through his publications. This letter reiterated Mulhall's statement that the writer did not want money but wanted to "get the lobbying documents published as a service to the public."

Mulhall Resumes Testimony
WASHINGTON, July 14.—As at the previous session of the house investigating committee, Lobbyist Mulhall was the star witness today in the congressional probe into organized lobbying at the capital.

Mulhall's first testimony today related to letters from Marshall Cushing, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers, suggesting a campaign against Representative Pearre of Maryland.

Mulhall said he made frequent visits to Pearre's district and conferred with former Senator Wellington, George H. Holtzman, postmaster at Cumberland and labor racket with great success and that the federal office holders are supplying the money.

TWO ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Prisoners Broke Out at Ipswich—Still at Large

LYNN, July 14.—Police of Lynn, Salem, Swampscott, Ipswich and surrounding towns are searching for two prisoners who broke out of the Ipswich jail late yesterday afternoon.

The men, Frederick, alias "Brick" Sturtevant, a horse thief, said to have spent more than half his life in prison, and the first man convicted under the habitual criminal act, and Peleg McDonald have been seen near the farm of Joseph Porter in East Swampscott.

DIVORCES, TANGO TEAS AND DRESS CRAZE DESCRIBED BY SOCIETY WOMAN

Mrs. HERBERT SHIPMAN

NEWPORT, R. I., July 14.—Among the smart but not ultra fashionable entertainers here is Mrs. Herbert Shipman, wife of Rev. Dr. Shipman, a prominent Episcopal rector among the Four Hundred of New York city. Mrs. Shipman has pronounced views about the society colony here. She says Newport is not as black as it's painted, despite the ridiculous frivolities of many of the very faddish matrons. She sees good in it. Mrs. Shipman is the heiress of the Edison Bradleys of New York, who maintain a magnificent home in Washington and entertain lavishly. "I have no fads," she is quoted as saying. "I believe the great majority of the Newport women are sensible, charming and lovable. They do not think more of their pet dogs than they do of their children." Mrs.

Shipman decries the society divorce, evil, tango teas and foolish styles in dress.

Roosevelt On Long Trip
WILLIAMSBURG, Ark., July 14.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt will visit at Grand Canyon three or four days before starting on a 150 mile ride. He was met here yesterday by Nicholas Roosevelt, his nephew, who had been arranging the trip. The former president plans to cross the canyon by muleback, hunt bear and mountain lions for a week or two and then ride to Gallup, crossing the Colorado river at Lee's Ferry.

Miss Pankhurst Released
LONDON, July 14.—Sylvan Pankhurst was released from Holloway jail last night as the result of her hunger strike. Miss Pankhurst was sentenced on July 5 to three months' imprisonment for incitement to commit disorders on June 29, when she led a mob to Downing street to attack the official residences of the ministers.

It is one thing to make soda crackers that are occasionally good.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are always better than all other soda crackers, always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda"—stamped on every biscuit—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

HOME WAS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

House and Furniture of V. T. Lanthier of East Chelmsford Burned—Other Fires

The home and contents of Van T. Lanthier, situated near Carleton street, East Chelmsford, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The blaze broke out about 1 o'clock while the family were away and no part of the furniture was saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanthier left the house about noon and within an hour the neighbors discovered that the rear part of the building was a mass of flames. The Chelmsford fire department was summoned and although they made a quick response the blaze could not be checked and both building and contents were totally destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is believed that it started from a stove which was used during the morning.

A strong wind was blowing at the time and sparks were carried several hundred yards. The grass caught fire in several places and the fire department was busy in protecting the houses in the vicinity. At one time it was thought that the house owned by John Robinson would catch from the grass fire, but the volunteer firemen extinguished the blaze after hard work.

The loss is estimated at about $3500 and it is said that this is partly covered by insurance.

Fire on Butler Avenue
A stubborn blaze broke out in the tenement property of Israel Greenberg at 48 Butler avenue, yesterday morning. The blaze originated in the rear part of the building and before the fire apparatus arrived it had spread to the front and for a time it was believed that the entire building would be destroyed. Several pieces of hose were put into use and the fire was soon under control. The loss is said to be about $100.

A chimney fire in a house at 775 Central street was responsible for a telephone alarm about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The blaze was soon extinguished with the damage confined to the chimney.

Another fire broke out on the land owned by the city of Lowell yesterday afternoon, but the department had no trouble in putting out the blaze.

A lighted match or cigar stub thrown into a pool of gasoline, which in some way had been spilled on Jackson street, near the Hamilton Manufacturing company, illuminated that district of the city about 7:30 o'clock last night. The Protective was called and the fire was immediately put out. A telephone alarm called the fire apparatus to the corner of Hildreth and Coburn streets about 8:30 o'clock last night, where a fire was on fire. When hose 12 arrived on the scene the fire had been extinguished by some men who were in the vicinity.

FRANCE MAKES REQUEST

To U.S. for Assistance in Perfecting Powder

WASHINGTON, July 14.—War department officials have been placed in an embarrassing position it became known yesterday, by a request from agents of the French government for assistance of the department's ordnance bureau in perfecting the smokeless powder now used by the French army and navy. A series of unexpected disastrous explosions in the French magazines aboard ship and ashore is said to have led to this request, which is quite unusual in view of the constant efforts of the French nations to protect their secret of this powder. The war department buys all powder under contract from an American-African company and this corporation has protested vigorously against the disclosure of its secrets to foreign governments, asserting that from patriotic motives it had previously rejected overtures from this foreign government to sell it powder or to establish a powder factory in France.

More funds are needed by the committee for the amount thus far has fallen short of that required in previous years.

Gorham Street Methodist Church
The services at the Gorham Street Methodist church yesterday were very largely attended. In the morning, the pastor, Rev. N. W. Matthews delivered an eloquent sermon on "The Perpetual Flame." The Sunday school session was also well attended. The evening service was most impressive, being an observance of the World's Sunday School day, and the usual program was carried out under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. Joseph Wilcox. The Christian Endeavor prayer service has been added to the regular Wednesday evening devotional service during July and August.

20 BUILDINGS BURNED

Disastrous Fire in Syracuse—Loss $600,000

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 14.—A bonfire started by two Italians in a lumber yard back of garages started a fire which did more than $500,000 damage to 20 buildings. Practically the whole plant of Kane & Reich, machinery manufacturers, was ruined. W. S. Kane, a member of the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the work of Adam and Eve, Dr. Hunt is general secretary of the Foreign Mission society, having taken up the duties of his new position, July 1.

"The expansion of Christianity in this country, and abroad in the last 100 years," he said, "has been wonderful."

ON BAPTIST MISSION

Rev. Dr. Emory Hunt at First Baptist Church

Rev. Dr. Emory W. Hunt occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. He spoke on "The Expansion of Christianity," having reference to the progress of mission work and also to the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the work of Adam and Eve. Dr. Hunt is general secretary of the Foreign Mission society, having taken up the duties of his new position, July 1.

"The expansion of Christianity in this country, and abroad in the last 100 years," he said, "has been wonderful."

The distinction between home and foreign missions is fast disappearing and the man who does not believe in foreign missions is having a very hard time. Cuba we call foreign, but the Philippines, a home mission country. The fact is that home missions cannot reasonably exist without foreign missions, and the reverse is also true. The great need of foreign missions now is a better type of Christianity at home. The greatest impediment to foreign missions is the low type of American and English representatives of supposedly Christian countries, that go to the countries where we are trying to do missionary work. The purpose of missions is not to change native customs, not to defeat a competitive religion but to teach men how to live with relation to each other. That's the big business of Christian missions today, and the man who does not believe in this, does not believe in Christian work anywhere.

THE PERRY CENTENNIAL

The Second Week of Celebration

ERIE, Pa., July 14.—The Niagara, rebuilt from the hull of the original of Oliver Hazard Perry, victor won the battle of Lake Erie Sept. 10, 1813, left this port last night. The brig reached Fairport this morning, where the second week of Perry's victory centennial will be celebrated. The Niagara was towed by the U. S. training ship Wolverine of Erie in command of Capt. Wm. Morrison. The Niagara is carrying a crew of 12 men. The brig is in full rig but the sails cannot be used. Late in September the Niagara will be returned to Erie, where it will remain.

ARM BROKEN IN FIGHT

Street Battle in Wakefield—One Stabbed

BOSTON, July 14.—While mixed up in a free for all fight in Wakefield late last night, Leonardo Bonassenti of 7 Blossom street, had his arm broken, while Antonio Muccio, of 5 Willey place, was cut twice in the back and although not seriously injured had to be taken home.

The fracas took place in the rear of the car barns on Water street, Wakefield, and was witnessed by a large crowd, many of them being friends of the pair.

The police were notified of the affair and Chief Pollard and Officer Deroche immediately hurried to the scene. They arrested the two injured men, but a doctor, on examining Muccio, ordered his removal to his home. Bonassenti will be arraigned in the district court today.

CHELMSFORD

Elmer E. Hildreth died Saturday at his home after a long illness. Deceased was 42 years of age and a life long resident of Chelmsford. He was a son of the late Benjamin M. Hildreth and besides his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Hildreth, he leaves a sister, Velma, his wife, and two sons, Clifford and Frederick.

The members of All Saints' Sunday school and parish enjoyed a picnic at Ryan's grove on the shore of Hart pond on last Saturday.

Charles A. Holbrook, principal of the high school, together with his family is spending a few weeks' vacation at Plum Island.

FIXING THE RESPONSIBILITY

The interstate commerce commission which has just reported on the Stamford collision in which six people were killed and over twenty injured when the second section of the Springfield express telescoped the last car of the first section, has placed the responsibility for the accident squarely on the shoulders of the officials of the New Haven road. It finds that the second section of a fast passenger train was run by an inexperienced engineer and that provisions are not adequately made by the railroad for testing the competency of the men who are chosen to have charge of the lives of thousands of passengers.

The above are stated as the main defects in the management of the road, as it effects such wrecks as those of Stamford, but there were also some contributing causes in that instance. The signals were improperly placed and the brakes were partly inefficient. More striking still is the sharp criticism contained in the accusation that there is no method by which it could be definitely ascertained that defects on locomotives which are reported, are repaired. It will be remembered that Engineer Doherty wrote in a work report a day or two before the accident: "Brakes no good."

The report of the commission makes direct allusion to the defense offered by General Manager Bardo at the hearing to the effect that the labor unions and brotherhoods are partly responsible for the accident, because they have taken the power of choosing competent men out of the hands of the railroad management. He had implied that the agreement between the trainmen and the road officials gave the latter no choice in the appointing of Engineer Doherty, because he was at the top of the list and so was eligible for the position. The commission very clearly shows that a clause in the agreement covers this point perfectly and absolves the brotherhoods as it provides that promotions shall take place systematically "so far as it is possible with the requirements of the service" and also more specifically states that when engineers are assigned to temporary vacancies they shall remain on same "provided they are competent."

Fixing the responsibility for railroad or other fatal accidents has little practical value unless it is accompanied by suggestions for the removal of the conditions which caused the loss of life. The interstate commerce commission report does not neglect this phase of the question but states the requirements of the times in a paragraph which applies to other railroads as well as to the New Haven:

"Establishment of safer and more efficient operation of this railroad is immediately necessary if congressional legislation extending the scope of governmental regulation of railroads is not to be called for and justified in the interests of public safety."

FRAUDULENT SOLICITORS

At the last regular session of the trades and labor council, information was given of a form of fraud being practiced locally that is as old as it is simple. It seems that solicitors are approaching the business men of the city with requests for advertisements for an alleged labor day souvenir program, using the name of the council as a cloak. As that body has not authorized any solicitors to make such collections, and as the game has been played here frequently in the past by dishonest but clever crooks, the council very properly warned the business men of Lowell against possible fraud. This is a case where nothing is to be lost by the exercise of unusual care. Those who pass out money to self-claimed representatives of any society are reckless indeed if they do not convince themselves beyond the shadow of a doubt that the solicitor is authorized to make such collections and is acting honorably and honestly.

Apologies of this subject it is well to be cautious at all times when approached by solicitors of funds for any purpose. The newspapers of the past few years have had many instances of gigantic frauds. In one case thousands of dollars were collected in Boston for an imaginary children's hospital, but when the police requested to be shown the hospital it vanished into thin air. Even the cloak of religion has been used by clever thieves until priests have been obliged to warn their congregations against fake solicitors dressed in the garb of priests or nuns. If there is the least doubt of the genuineness of the appeal, and if solicitors of funds for any purpose are not properly authorized, it is better to refuse to contribute than to realize that one has been duped by an especially clever variety of crook.

A WISE PARDON

Whatever the opinion of the public may be as to the use or abuse of the pardoning power, as availed of by the governor and his council, there can be no justifiable condemnation of the pardon bestowed last Wednesday on David D. Farnham of Bridgewater who had been sentenced two weeks before to six months in Plymouth Jail for

In these days of linoleum, do the very poor still use the old-fashioned oil cloth?

It is a great misfortune to be deaf, of course, but there is the compensation that deaf people escape a good many things that other people have to bear.

People who believe in fortune-telling probably have explained in some way satisfactory to themselves why fortune-tellers are themselves so poor, but they are willing to tell fortunes for fifty cents a head.

"Work hard and marry early" is a rule given by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and it fulfills the qualification of a good rule in that it works both ways.

The "sweating stone" on the farm of John Owens near Columbus, Mass., never fails to give a correct forecast of rain. Seventy-five years ago a barn was built on the Owens farm, and one of the stones used in the foundation is what is known throughout that part of the country as the "sweating stone."

Usually a day or two before a rain this stone begins to sweat. Moisture oozes from it and trickles down the sides.

The other morning the stone began to sweat, and Owens called some of his neighbors and informed them that there would be rain within a short time. Rain came in the afternoon. Indianapolis News.

Apologies of a gold-mounted electrical massage machine worth $10,000, that occupies the drawing room of a New York woman's house, Miss Mary Gordon said in Philadelphia.

"Undoubtedly a rich woman can look younger than she really is. What with Turkish baths, electric light, air exercise in abundance, temperance in eating and drinking, massage and so forth, a woman can, to a remarkable degree, preserve her figure, and her complexion."

The new senator from Texas, Morris Sheppard, when a boy had all the average lad's ambitions to shoot Indians and go forth in search of other adventures. He was deeply interested in the history of William Tell, especially where that worthy defied the tyrant and shot the apple from the head of his son.

So young Sheppard selected several playmates to act the part of the son and aiming himself with a .22-calibre rifle, instead of a slingshot, he shot and arrows he sailed forth to defy the tyrant.

Unfortunately, it was not the season for tyrants. They were not to be found in the open, so he disguised his part of the program and proceeded to place an apple on the head of a comrade who was to represent the son of Tell.

When he sent a bullet whistling through an apple that rested on the child's head, just at this juncture the drama was interrupted by the sudden appearance of a tyrant in the person of his masculine parent, who promptly yanked Tell into the woodshed and made a whole orchestration with a single application of a slingshot!

The French critic, musician and government official, Rouven, was fond of joking. One of his diversions, amusing, but not to be commended—was to go into some shop where he thought he was not known and perplex the shopmen by his questions and remarks.

One evening he had taken a good deal of wine when he went into a little watchmaker's shop and, assuming the accent and air of a countryman, said:

"Sir, what do you call those little

"Watches," replied the shopkeeper. "What are they for?"

"To indicate the time."

"Really? I have heard of them. How much do they cost?"

"Here is one for 200 francs, and one for 100 francs; and here are some for 50 and 25 francs."

"Are there printed directions about making them go?"

"No; they have to be wound up every day with a key."

"Will you show me how, sir?"

"This way. You see it is not difficult."

"And must one wind it in the evening or in the morning?"

"You must wind yours in the morning."

"Why in the morning?"

"Because in the evening you are drunk, M. Rouven, and might break it."—New York Telegraph.

The back of the neck is the commonest place for a carbuncle to appear.

It is a most sensitive spot, not so much on the surface of the skin as in the underlying tissues, where the great nerves that communicate very closely with the brain. And it is in these tissues that the carbuncle spreads its "roots."

A carbuncle is the breaking down of the tissue caused by the germs called staphylococcus and streptococcus. They are the bacteria which means the only pus-producing germs. They eat and break down the tissue. The white corpuscles of the blood rush to the spot and try to devour the attacking bacteria. Millions of them perish in the attempt, and pus is really a mixture of dead white corpuscles and germs that are exuding virulent poisons.

Carbuncles select the back of the neck so often because of the irritation caused by the collar if this be slightly felt or touched by careless laundresses. The back of the neck is almost as much exposed to dirt as are the backs of the hands and needs washing at least twice a day. The bling of the collar scrapes off the early surface of the skin, which is its protection against germs of disease. This being gone, the germs enter unopposed.

A collar button pressing constantly on the spot may produce the same effect.

And in a few days you are going around with a bandage on your neck and suffering a awful torture. Fortunately the doctors have discovered an antidote to quickly cure carbuncles. Yet even when this is administered the patient is doomed to much pain.

The moral of all this is: Don't wear a collar that is the least bit frayed.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Condemnation
Woonsocket, R.I., July 14.—The interstate commerce commission's report on the Stamford collision is a sweeping condemnation in which condemnation easily overshadows whatever praise is bestowed.

Have We Got Them?
Lynn Telegram: The croaker is the worst possible asset a city can have and Lynn is wealthy in this asset. The city is riled with the sort of croaking frogs who love to emerge from the mud-pools into the sunlight of the day and utter their croak about conditions and how bad they are. They love to tell about this and that and prophesy evil for almost anything which displeases them. And nearly everything which bids fair to be successful displeases them.

All Solved
Brockton Times: It is true Theodore Roosevelt has written to Viscount Kaneko promising to help solve the California anti-alien problem, we may have a chance to see if Hiram Johnson dares talk back to his chief. As far as Hiram is concerned, the problem is all solved.

Slightly Mixed
New York World: Mixed metaphors and half-baked ideas are frequently encountered, but a sentence from David Lamm's testimony before the senate committee, contains more of them, we think, than were ever before embraced in the same number of words: "It was a Wall street operation. Everything goes. Once you put your shoulder to the plough, hope goes out of the window."

A Lamentable Sequel
Fall River Globe: The fierce war that has broken out between the recent allies in the Balkans is a lamentable sequel to the Balkan peace conference which was held in London last year. The peace conference was a failure, and the result was a war which has cost the lives of thousands of men and the suffering of millions of women and children.

Must Change
Boston Traveler: If the republican party desires to regain its lost power its leaders here and elsewhere must mend their ways. No longer must they proceed on the assumption that the units of the party are fools and that a group of bosses plus a group of lobbyists will be permitted to tell the voters what to do.

Wage Increases
Newport News: Of course the companies cannot go on raising wages and their taxes are increased and the cost of almost all their materials has advanced—unless they can raise their charges. It is possible that their incomes are so large that they can make the increase now demanded, but the time must come when the roads will need to earn more money if they are to pay out more. As their operating expenses are now rising much faster than their gross earnings it is probable that they cannot increase their expenses now unless they can have more income.

Marshall's Writings
Foster's Democrat: Vice President Marshall says he practiced law for years and then took to holding public office—"that was when I found out what I was cut out for—the giving of advice to people." A very pleasant profession so long as the salary lasts.

VACATION
Vacation is a lovely time. When every one is free to follow his devices. Whatever they may be. And folks make plans for leaving home.

And going far away. To read, and row, and drive, and walk. And flirt, and loaf, and play.

Some hasten to the mountains. And others to the shore. And many say when they come home vacation was a bore.

But I have found a scheme at last. That I think is the best: Vacation is a lovely time. To stay at home and rest.

aires' express" balked, Saturday night on the Housatonic division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, en route for his country place in Stockbridge, because the locomotive drawing the train behaved very much like the wood-burners of Florida.

All the way up into the Berkshires there were halts of from five to 15 minutes at stations while the engineer made steam enough to haul the train to the next station. More than two hours were lost in the steam making operations and while there were impatient passengers aboard, anxious hosts and hostesses awaiting the arrival of week-end guests hurried to the stations between Canaan, Conn., and this city, demanding information.

Pres. Mellen left the train at Stockbridge, where he entered an automobile and was hurried to a late dinner made steam enough to haul the train at council grove.

ASSAULT ON TARIFF REVISION BILL PULLED OFF CARS AND BEATEN

Sen. McCumber Charges Democrats With Kicking American Farmer Into the Gutter

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, opened the republican assault on the democratic tariff revision bill in the senate today, defending the farmers of the country against the free listing of "great reduction in tariff rates on agricultural products, and charging the democratic party with deliberately "kicking the American farmer into the gutter."

"In this year, 1913," said Senator McCumber, addressing the democrats "you are about to commit a greater crime against the American farmer than has ever been perpetrated by any political party against any class of people during any period of recorded history."

"With violent hands you are about to strip him of every advantage which the changed conditions of home supply and demand were about to yield to him. You have declared that he is an outcast in the land which he has made, the only one of all the classes of American people who is not entitled to any consideration at your hands. You have insulted his sense of fairness, slapped him in the face and kicked him into the gutter."

The bill, Senator McCumber declared, seemed to have been conceived in animosity against every American industry that needed protection with the American farmer as the "special object of his choler and hate."

"It is because of his past political affiliation that you are heaping upon him the vengeance for all your previous defeats? Or do you consider yourself to be the instrument through which Providence is to work its punishment because in the last political campaign he forgot the faith of his fathers and went chasing after a strange god, with cloven hoofs and branching antlers?"

"If he is to be punished for his heresy, are you the proper person to inflict the punishment? You are the beneficiary of the farmer's infidelity to his own party last fall. And for you now to be his executioner for the offense of being misled by you strikes me as being one of the most cold-blooded propositions I have ever heard of."

It was the democrats, Senator McCumber declared, who told the farmer that he had been wronged by Mr. Taft because the former president sought to "trade off his protection for reciprocal tariff reductions by Canada" and it was the democrats who tried to convince the farmer that the republican party was not to be trusted and that they, instead, should be entrusted with his interests.

The reciprocity proposition, the senator argued, had one virtue, in that it proposed to get something for surrendering nothing, while the democrats proposed to trade away the farmer's interest in everything "for absolutely nothing."

"The reciprocity proposition," he continued, "subjected the farmer to the free competition of Canada only. You subject him to the competition of the whole world—all of Canada, Australia, Venezuela, Argentina, Cuba, the Philippines and every other country on the face of the earth that may want to dump its products into a market that belongs by right to the American farmer."

Admit Injury to Farmer.

Senator McCumber asserted that the democrats admitted the tariff bill would injure the farmer, contending that he received too much for his products and must be compelled to sell them cheaper, and charged that the democrats "know that your claim that you are going to benefit the consumer is false and demagogic in the extreme."

The senator submitted a resolution seeking to show that the tariff did not affect the price of farm products to the consumer and, again, addressing the democrats, said:

"Your cars are closed to every appeal for justice for the tiller of the soil. You are reaching a point where your income is unable to keep pace with your extravagances, and you are asking the farmer to make good the deficit by reducing the price of his products. It never occurs to you that the proper place to begin economy is on the luxuries, the unnecessary of life. You declare to him that the American people are paying $1,500,000 a year for meat and you say that is too much. He answers, 'They are also paying $2,000,000 a year for liquors. Cut your liquor bill half and you will have enough to buy all your meat.' You declare they are paying $135,000,000 a year for flour. He replies, 'They are paying $500,000,000 for tobacco. Cut your tobacco bill half and your flour is free.' You declare they are paying $225,000,000 a year for potatoes. He replies, 'They are paying $500,000,000 for theatres and amusements. Cut your amusements bill half and your potatoes are free.' You declare, they are paying $300,000,000 a year for butter and eggs. He replies, 'They are spending $500,000,000 a year for confectionery.' His replies are unanswerable. They are so many monuments rearing in clear black letters into your eyes an indictment of your own criminal extravagances and high living."

The North Dakota senator asserted that prices would be lower after the tariff bill becomes law, but that it would be because of the inability of the public to pay higher prices and because of the "general stagnation of business" brought about by the tariff bill.

"The farmer may be slow, but he is quite sure," continued the senator, "He may forget, but the hard rapids of poverty can jog his memory. Once pass this accursed measure, and before 1914 he will be fully awake to the realization of the offense committed against him. Pass this bill and unless this cut-throat policy which annihilates the republican party in 1912 continues there will not be a democratic state in the whole north. It took the farmer sixteen years to forget the last democratic policy. Pass this bill and the generation living will never forget you."

BODY FOUND FLOATING

Thomas Haney of Lawrence, Mass. Drowned in Canal—Mysterious Affair.

LAWRENCE, July 14.—The body of Thomas Haney, aged 43, of 1 Methuen street, was found at 5:35 o'clock Sunday morning in the north canal in the vicinity of Amesbury street. Mystery surrounds the drowning of the man, no one having seen him fall into the canal and no facts of the fatality, other than that the man's body was found floating in the water early Sunday morning are known.

The body was first seen by the watchman of the lower Pacific mill, notified the police, who in turn notified Medical Examiner George W. Dow, Dr. Dow viewed the remains and pronounced death due to accidental drowning. Dr. Dow said last night that the man's body was probably in the water over night. There were no marks of violence on the man's clothing or person. Other Florence McCarthy located a sister of the deceased, Miss Julia Conroy, who also lives at 7 Methuen street. The man was identified by means of a small book which was found in his pocket, and containing his name and address.

The body was placed in charge of Undertaker McAuliffe and later was removed to the home.

The police stated last night that they knew nothing of the cause of drowning. When interviewed last evening, Miss Conroy, the dead man's sister, said:

"I knew nothing of the drowning until the police officer came to the door and informed me of it. My brother left the house Saturday noon to go to the Arlington mill and I saw no more of him. I haven't the least idea as to the cause of his drowning."

Mr. Haney was born in England 13 years ago, but had resided in Lawrence for the past 25 years, living for most of the time at 7 Methuen street. He was a mill planner and was employed by Mr. T. Stevens & Sons' mill in North Andover. Previous to being employed there he had worked at Kimball's mill. He is survived by his sister, Miss Conroy.

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nervous trouble—heart trouble. LEXINGTON, July 14.—Wildest disorder marked the attempt of the Kentucky Traction Co. to operate cars with strike breakers today, and as a result an appeal has been made for state troops. The new men were pulled off the cars as soon as they reached the heart of the city. One car was filled with passengers but every one was ejected by the strikers. Another car was burned on the tracks and the company abandoned its efforts by eight o'clock. A score of arrests were made and a number of strike breakers and deputy sheriffs were beaten.

THREE BOYS BROKE INTO CAR No. Chelmsford Lads Enter Car Used by Track Men and Strew the Effects Around

Three North Chelmsford boys took a frolic last night which may cost them dear before they get through with it. Seeing a car on the siding at North Chelmsford last night, and knowing that nobody was around to watch them, the three boys stealthily approached the car and after discovering the fact that it was empty, forced an entrance and went inside. The car is the one which is used by the track men, when out on repair work on the road and contained many personal effects of the men.

After gaining an entrance the young chaps decided to have a little fun at the expense of the men whose belongings were strewn around the car. Everything was looked over, although nothing has been reported missing as yet, and what couldn't be gotten at easily was made to yield to the whims of the boys.

ST. PETER'S ORPHANAGE

of appointments to the various English speaking parishes of the city, thus St. Peter's, St. Patrick's and the Immaculate Conception parishes were assessed $5,000 each; St. Michael's and the Sacred Heart parishes were assessed $1,000, while St. Columba's and St. Margaret's were directed to raise $1,500 apiece.

The new structure is located in Stevens street, within the limits of St. Margaret's parish, though, as is well known, it is not a parochial institution but rather one for the English speaking parishes of the city in general.

All of the construction work is now complete and the painters are rapidly finishing their work on the interior. The authorities at the temporary orphanage in Chelmsford street are making preparations to move into the new home at an early date. At the temporary institution, only girls are accommodated, there being at present about 50 inmates. At the new orphanage, however, both boys and girls will be admitted, for the building is a large one and most conveniently fitted up to harbor about 150 or more children.

The boys are new for the most part in the French orphanage and as soon as the new institution in the Highlands is opened, they will be transferred to that place. It is expected that at the very outset there will be very nearly 150 boys and girls at the institution, for even now the number of applications is extremely large.

A word concerning the building itself: It is a three-story, solid and fire-proof construction, the plans having been drawn up by Architect Henry Rourke. On the ground floor are the dormitories for the boys and girls and also the Sisters' dining-room. This floor also is located the parlors, visitors' reception rooms, office, etc., and the chapel, the latter being one of the most beautiful features of the entire institution. The second floor is given over almost entirely to class rooms and community rooms while the top story is taken up by the four large dormitories. In the basement are fully equipped play rooms, two shower baths, a complete laundry room, the boiler rooms, etc.

The interior furnishings of the chapel, including the art windows, statues, etc., will in almost every case be donations from various people throughout the city. The entire interior of the building is of beautiful finish, and perfectly fitted out for the purpose for which it was designed. There are three acres of land with the building affording a fine out-of-door recreation ground for the children.

Cardinal O'Connell has appointed Rev. Charles Galligan, pastor of St. Margaret's church, to act as general director of the institution, and he has worked untiringly in its behalf. The Franciscan nuns will be in charge and the ages of the children will range from 5 to 12 or 14 years. They will receive the best preliminary education and general training.

There are few like institutions which can excel or even equal it in the content of the good work which they accomplish and the latter will be a credit to the city of Lowell as well as a haven of refuge for the unfortunate boys and girls who are left homeless.

Patrick Conlon was the contractor and the completeness with which every detail has been finished is a tribute to his skill and honesty.

Lowell Ovals to Meet

The next meeting of the Lowell Oval Club will be held in Elks' hall next Tuesday night. The club has been the most interesting and important meeting ever held by the Lowell ovalists. The semi-annual reports from the financial officers and the business meeting will be held. A class will be initiated, and a memorial service will be held for two of the brothers who have passed away since the last meeting. At the close of the business concert will be given and refreshments will be served. No admission will be charged and each member is invited to be present and bring a friend.

FIRE DEPT. RECORDS

Mr. Barrett. The commissioner says he has never seen the records and the young lady who was clerk in the office of Chief Hosmer before Mr. Barrett was made chief of the water department and fire works," says she never saw them.

A word about the case for which the records are required. William J. Green was discharged from the fire department in 1907. He claims that he was discharged but City Solicitor Henry Barrett, appearing for Mr. Barrett, says that Green was never on the payroll of the fire department and therefore could never have been discharged from the department. Mr. Barrett admits that Mr. Green was a substitute fireman to the extent that he worked for substitute firemen, but asserts that he was paid by the men for whom he worked and not by the fire department.

There have been several hearings on the case and the last was held a few days ago in the mayor's reception room at city hall. Jackson Palmer on that day, asked for the records of the fire department for 1907, the year in which Mr. Green claims to have been discharged. The city clerk was summoned as a witness in the Green vs. Barrett case when the matter was before the supreme judicial court in Boston and the city clerk has never fully explained to the extent that he loaded down with records, for his instructions were to take "all records" along. Mr. Flynn should have used two or three of the city's automobiles to cart the books to Boston, but he took the kind of man that he appointed to investigate the necessity of removing Lowell's records to Boston, day after day, the court appointed an auditor to collect the evidence in the case and present it to the court. James J. Barrett, who visited the scene of Kirovsk battle ground gave evidence of the Bulgarians having crucified, mutilated and burned wounded.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Mail reports long negotiations between Turkey and Roumania and believes that an understanding has practically been reached. Roumania wants five torpedo boats, which Turkey is willing to lend on condition that Roumania supports her.

REFUGEES FROM SERRES SAY BULGARIAN POLICE SET FIRE TO TOWN

SALONIKI, July 14.—Refugees from Serres assert that the Bulgarian police set fire to the town in several places on Thursday. While the fire was raging throughout the city the Bulgarian guns, mounted on the adjacent heights, bombarded houses flying foreign flags, notably the consulates which were crowded with fugitives, and poured shrapnel into the crowds of people fleeing from the city.

GREECE AND SERVIA HAVE AGREED TO AN ARMISTICE—TURKS ADVANCE

LONDON, July 14.—There is no sign of peace at present. Greece and Servia have gone so far as to agree to an armistice. The Turkish army is advancing by forced marches from Thessaly and Bulgar, apparently with the consent of Greece and Servia, to attempt the recapture of Adrianople and Thrace. Roumania is said to be proceeding to occupy a much larger extent of Bulgarian territory than she previously claimed and Greece is burning to avenge the Bulgarian massacres, concerning which horrifying details continually appear in the official reports issued from Athens and Saloniki. According to these reports ears and fingers of Greek women still bearing the marks of Bulgarian tortures. There is still talk of Russian interference, and it is reported from St. Petersburg that the powers in concert have notified the Sublime Porte that they will not permit military operations beyond the Enos-Midia line fixed by the London conference. But the European concert is slow in moving. No fresh reports regarding a revolution in Sofia are without foundation. The Bulgarian government accuses Greece of circulating false accounts of Bulgarian atrocities with a view to preparing the ground for future territorial claims and expresses itself as willing to submit the whole matter to an international investigation. And the numbers reported and information regarding which side began the hostilities and accusations and denials of atrocities, is going on between Bulgaria on the one side and Servia and Greece on the other. In Bulgarian circles in London it is announced that an agreement has been reached with Turkey to regard the Enos-Midia line as a provisional frontier, pending final deliberations by the international commission.

NORTH BILLERICA

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Allen was the scene of a pleasant party last Saturday night, the occasion being the anniversary of the birth of their daughter, Bessie. During the evening games were played and a musical entertainment was furnished. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allen, assisted by Misses Agnes and Josephine Allen. One of the features of the evening was the presentation to Miss Bessie Allen of a beautiful pendant by Mr. J. Thomas Brown. Miss Allen, although taken wholly by surprise responded and thanked all present for the gift. She was also the recipient of many other gifts, among them being a gold watch from her sister. The party broke up at a reasonable hour, all stating that the evening had been one of the pleasantest ever spent.

Wm. A. Mooney, Formerly With the Electric Light Corp.

Head of Biggest Engineers' Union in Country

William A. Mooney, formerly of this city and an employee of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation at its works on Perry street, has attained prominence in New York city in which he resides. Since leaving Lowell he has been happily married and is residing at Elmhurst, one of the suburbs of New York. He is head of one of the largest unions of engineers in New York city, or perhaps in the country, the membership totalling over 800. He has filled many important positions in connection with the order in which he is a recognized authority. Recently he made a flying trip to Lowell but had not time to meet one-twentieth of his friends. Needless to say he is as popular where known in New York as he was in Lowell.

Belgrade despatch to the Telegraph says that the Servian invasion of Bulgaria has been successful but was confined to the district between the frontier and the Piro-Kustendil line. The Servians are advancing, making good progress. The Daily Mail's correspondent with the Servians sends the following dispatch:

"There has been no fighting since Wednesday. The weather is hot and the roads heavy. A Russian photographer who visited the scene of Kirovsk battle ground gave evidence of the Bulgarians having crucified, mutilated and burned wounded."

The Constantinople correspondent of the Mail reports long negotiations between Turkey and Roumania and believes that an understanding has practically been reached. Roumania wants five torpedo boats, which Turkey is willing to lend on condition that Roumania supports her.

WERE PRESENT AT GAME

Antone Souza, Manuel Corlez, John Souza, Frank Tantos, John Gomez and Antone Maragno, accompanied by an interpreter, all marched up to the bar this morning and pleaded to the charge of being present at a game on the Lord's Day. Two of their number pleaded not guilty but the evidence produced by Officer Guthrie and the other two limbs of the law who assisted in the arrest soon brought the court to the realization of the fact that all were equally involved. They were all ordered to pay a fine of $3.

Illegally Selling Liquor

Inspectors Duncan and Holland together with Officer Testaross took in a woman who gave her name as Annie Strogoff and booked her on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors without a license. She pleaded guilty to the charge and was given the minimum sentence for the offence, a fine of $50.

Philomine Guerin pleaded not guilty to the charge of larceny. Seven counts in all are preferred against this woman and it is alleged that she has stolen articles from all the large stores in the city. Her case was continued until Thursday.

Refused to Pay Fare

Dominic Lombardo was accused of being drunk last night and also of kicking up a disturbance in North Billerica when the conductor of the car upon which he was riding politely asked him for his fare. When asked to plead this morning he simply said, "If me no pay last night me no pay now." The man admitted that he was drunk. Superintending Officer Testaross, the defendant was superintended by drink and that a small fine would meet the requirements of the law. He was fined $5.

Non Support

George F. Corcoran was charged with drunkenness and non-support of his wife and minor children. The defendant pleaded guilty, and he was given four months in the house of correction.

Frank E. Austin was charged with drunkenness and when the warrant was read he reared out in a voice which could be heard three blocks away. "Guilty," he said, and was arrested with him were sent to jail for a term of two months. Thomas Bear was also sent to jail for two months on the same charge.

Frank E. Riley was not disappointed this morning when the court ordered him to be committed to the state farm. "I expected that," said Riley. He is blind and presented a pitiful figure in the dock.

More was given a suspended sentence to the house of correction of four months' duration on condition that he leave all intoxicants alone for the next six months. Harry A. Bent and Charles Gagnon, both parole men, were sent back to the state farm. Alexander Campbell, a man under suspicion for the receipt of $23 was sent to jail for one month. The witness, who is a necessity in the large case, has left town and his whereabouts are unknown by the police so the latter case could not be put on trial this morning. Before the defendant is released from jail, however, the complainant may show up and then Campbell will be up against another charge.

George McCann was fined $15 for his third appearance for drunkenness within the year. This sentence was suspended for a month in order to give the defendant an opportunity to earn the fine. There were two $3 drunks and fourteen releases of first offenders by the probation officer.

LOWELL SPLITS IN DOUBLE HEADER

Portland Takes First Game 11 to 5—Lowell Came Back and Won Second 7 to 1

Lowell divided a double header with Portland Saturday afternoon at Spaulding park, losing the first contest 11 to 5 and winning the second by the score of 7 to 1. Lowell was outclassed in the first game, but Finnegan pitched a great game in the second contest and did not allow Duffy's men to become dangerous at any stage. Although Portland got eight hits to Lowell's seven they were scattered, while Manager Gray's men landed on "Wormwood" hard in the second and eighth innings.

Two base hits: Pumphrey, Bowcock, Home runs: Bowcock, J. L. Sullivan, Sacrifice hits: J. Sullivan, 2, Haydon, Merrill, Double plays: Cawley, Hallstein and Cawley; J. Sullivan, Bowcock and Pumphrey; Hickman and Pumphrey; Stolen bases: DeGroot, Bases on balls: By Adams 2, by Zeiser 2, by Jewell 2. Struck out: By Jewell 3; by Zeiser 6; Hits: Off Adams 2 in 2-3 innings; off Zeiser 11 in 6-2-3 innings. Wild pitch: Zeiser. First base on errors: By Lowell 2; by Portland 4. Time: 2:20. Umpires: Rorty and Duffy. Attendance: 3500.

In the second game Finnegan was at his best although he did not exert himself until Portland had landed bare runners along the path. His sharp breaking outcurve had Duffy's men straining their backs in an endeavor to reach it and twice pulled himself out of a very dangerous looking position.

Worcester the other day, a dispute arose over a play by a Worcester player at third. McCune, the noted debater of Jesse Burkett's outfit, ran up to Rorty, exclaiming "That's a rotten decision." "Later," said the nuburn-haired indicator holder, "I'm going to knock you out of your seat, come to the clubhouse." And Mr. McCune, for once in his career, went out of the park without a word.

Jewell is one lucky pitcher. Any box artist who can hit out eight free transportation tickets, allow eight hits and have three errors made behind him and then pull out a victory is a very fortunate ball player. Duffy's coaching from the Portland bench, headed by a beautiful triple which in all probability would have been converted into a homer if he had not been held out third. The score.

Dee was the star with the stick for Lowell in the second game, his contribution being three safeties for a total of five bases. Finnegan connected for a beautiful triple which in all probability would have been converted into a homer if he had not been held out third. The score.

Well, the top of the ladder isn't so far away after all. If Lawrence will consent to take a few bumps this week and the locals go along playing the brand of ball they showed last week in several of their games, Lowell should be within striking distance of the top before long.

Cawley has been recalled by Manager Gray of Lawrence. He has played good ball for Lowell since he left the vacant spot in the infield and pulled off several sensational plays. I guess that catch he made in the first game Saturday when he took a fly ball near his left shoulder while on the dead run was a tough performance, what?

"Red" Rorty has the reputation of being the wildest man who ever gave a decision in this league. Down to

LOWELL POLICE TEAM KILLS BOARDER AT TABLE

Getting Ready For Great Man Then Gave Himself Stunt Thursday Up to Police

On Thursday morning, nine local policemen will temporarily discard their brass buttoned uniform of blue with the nice badges and new caps and put on their old baseball suits to cross clubs with the Newton "Gerrards" at Spaulding park. The circus will start promptly at 11 o'clock—provided both teams are there at that time; otherwise the officers are in favor of loafing until the players arrive. The Lowell cops have a winning team, without a doubt, and thus far they have fairly eaten alive nearly all of the teams whom they have encountered in their progress toward the pennant. People are wondering why Jack Sullivan is not seen in his old position at the first sack and some have even gone so far as to say that they believe the big fellow is a "has-been" in baseball, although he still retains his winning personality and sunny disposition. It was that same magnetic personality that was a big factor in many of the Lowell victories. Jack would stand at first and smile and converse with the opposing batters and while the poor hitters who could not resist Jack's sparkling monologue, drank in every word and basked in the sunshine of his smiles, the Lowell twirlers grooved 'em across the plate and the umpire sang out "Strike three, batter out!" and the officer placed his foot on the pitcher's box and said "You're out!"

When interviewed by one of The Sun staff, three of the men were seated or standing around a pile of boxes laughing over a humorous story told by one of their number. "How long will it take to install all the boxes," asked the writer of the one who looked to be a trifle more able than his companions. "I'll take about a week, but don't say so, make it a month, we're off on a vacation."

It does not seem quite fair to the city to be imposed upon by a company whose employees care nothing about the speed with which these boxes are installed. The new fire proof vaults have been put into the police station for the purpose of saving all the police and court records in case a fire should break out. Each vault is constructed of brick and is lined inside with steel. The safety boxes which arrived today are of metal and will be placed along the walls of each vault.

The lower safety receptacle will contain the records of the police department. The middle vault will contain the police court criminal records while that on the top floor will hold all the affairs of the civil sessions of the police court. The work when completed will cost the city somewhere in the neighborhood of $15,000. These vaults have been built by the city at the command of the state keeper of records and under the state law the city was compelled to install them. It is expected that the entire work will be finished in two weeks' time and the vaults thrown open for business.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Names of hundreds of men who were registered but could not vote at the last November election were voted by "repeaters." Details of how the ballot fraud was worked were brought to light today in the Cooper grand jury investigation of the election and made public by F. L. Fairbank, assistant to Special States Attorney Northrup.

"About an hour before the polls closed in many precincts," said Mr. Fairbank, "persons who were in the polling places checked up the names of those who had not voted, then they went out and sought out the men who were in the polling places. If they were out of the city in a hospital or otherwise pretty sure not to vote, repeaters were called in to vote for them."

"These things were found in our investigation and on the strength of them we wrote to men in many parts of the city to ask if they really voted. Answers poured in saying the writers did not vote and are indignant to find that some one voted in their names."

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 14.—A second autopsy was performed today on the body of Alice Crispell, which was found in Harvey's lake a week ago today. The coroner's physician after the first autopsy last week declared that death had been due to drowning.

William H. Crispell, father of the dead girl, came to Wilkesbarre today. The police are investigating a theory that Miss Crispell might have been attacked by strangers on her way home from the lake and thrown into the water. A witness has been found who said he saw five men come to the lake from the direction of the road which Alice is supposed to have taken to go home on the last night she was seen alive.

SUBSTITUTE FOR WOOL SCHEDULE

Sen. Smoot of Finance Committee Introduces Amendment to Underwood-Simmons Bill

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senator Smoot, republican member of the finance committee, introduced a substitute for the wool schedule of the Underwood-Simmons bill, proposing rates based directly upon the report of the tariff board and adopting in each grade the lowest rate. The schedule is lower than introduced last year by Senator Penrose as a substitute for the Underwood wool bill and is the lowest of all wool schedules ever introduced by a republican senator.

As a substitute for free raw wool, the Smoot schedule divides raw wool into three grades and establishes rates ranging from seven to 16 cents per pound. Class one wools made suitable as 16 cents per pound if scoured and 15 cents per pound on cleaned content, if imported in the grease, includes Merino wools imported usually from Buenos Ayres, New Zealand, Egypt, Australia, Cape of Good Hope, Russia, Great Britain, Morocco, down combing wools and Canada long wools.

Wools of class two, made suitable at 14 cents per pound, if scoured and 13 cents on cleaned content in the grease, includes all hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and Leicester, Cotswold, Lincolnshire and similar long combing wools of English blood. Wools of class three durable at seven cents per pound if imported in their natural state and 14 cents if scoured and 13 cents on cleaned content. The schedule includes all such wools usually imported from Turkey, Greece and Syria. A drawback of 20 per cent is provided for on wools of class three used in the United States for the manufacture of carpets, mats, floor rugs, hassocks, art squares, etc., which would make carpet wools practically free of duty. The duty on wools or hair on the skin would be one cent less per pound in every case than on the wool content.

Manufactured goods and wools advanced beyond the natural state the rates of the Smoot bill are correspondingly lower than present rates. The schedule contains a provision that the rates on raw wool should be effective Jan. 1, 1914.

KILLS WIFE, 3 CHILDREN AND SELF

Connellsville, Pa., Miner Said to be Jealous Kills His Entire Family

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., July 14.—George Mehallis, a Polish miner, early today shot and killed his wife, Dorothea, and their three children, Erma, aged 8, Anthony, aged 3, and Andrew, aged 6, at their home in Trotter, a mining village one mile from here. He then killed himself. Jealousy was assigned by neighbors as the cause of the tragedy.

BURNED BODIES FOUND SETS FIRE TO HER BED

Two Aviators Perished Natick Woman Nearly and Plane Wrecked Burned in Cell

VERSAILLES, France, July 14.—The charred wreckage of an aeroplane with the burned bodies of two aviators lying in the ashes was found this morning near Nonancourt on the railroad from Paris to Granville.

The dead were identified as a man named Percin, who was experimenting with a monoplane of his own invention, and his son, who had accompanied him as mechanic.

The aeroplane, which was of an unknown make, at a height of 150 feet, the ground causing the fuel tank to explode. The bodies of the aviators, pinned beneath the motor, were almost consumed.

MONUMENT TO STRIKER

Hopedale Workers Plan Memorial for Victim

MILFORD, July 14.—Plans for a monument to Emilio Barchibochi, the Draper mill striker shot in a battle between rioters and the police during the height of the strike, were made at a meeting of the local Industrial Workers of the World yesterday.

At the same time, while no official vote was taken, the leaders declared the strike would be continued.

Treas. Peter Hartone of the relief committee announced that from April 19 to date the total received from all sources was $30,000.55, and the total expenditures were $30,514.11. There was also an indebtedness, he said, of nearly $500 to stockholders in Milford. Members of the organization promised to pay $1 each a week until the debt is cleared.

Flavio Albizzati, a strike leader of much local prominence, was "on the carpet" in his own defense in connection with expenditures in promotion of the strike. Up to June 13, he asserted, he has had a weekly stipend from the I. W. W. general treasury, and since he has lived here on the contributions of personal friends, receiving no pay. He has been charged with misappropriation, but after his reply he was given an assurance of renewed confidence.

SOUTH END CLUB OUTING

Two Big Trucks Motored to Nahant

The members of the South End Social club, about seventy strong, enjoyed their annual outing to Bass Point and Revere beach yesterday. Two large auto trucks, loaded with the members, left Gorham street in front of the club at 9:30 o'clock and conveyed the jolly group over the 35 miles that separates this city from Bass Point. Although the early morning showed signs of rain when the members started on their trip the brooding clouds rolled away and the sun beamed brightly upon the pleasure seekers, and promised them a pleasant day.

The ride, which lasted about two hours, was "chuck full" of fun and for Revere Beach" bawled out the second auto and "all off" it was. Arriving on the other side the party trooped along the wharf to the boulevard, all laughing and talking.

Then the fun started. Immediately, about 50 of the party got busy with bathing suits and made for the salt water. "It's great," was the unanimous verdict and the boys gave a fine exhibition of the water art.

The swim lasted about one hour and then all of the amusement places were visited. Starting on the flying roller-coasters they visited the Mystic Maze, the "Pit" and others. In the flying wheels, climbed the moving stairs and slid down the "bumps."

Many a young arm was brought out as a result of a severe sunburn and a burn received while in the former place.

The members then walked back to the wharf and boarded the boat back to Nahant where the trucks were waiting.

The journey home was started about 8 o'clock and although a tired group, the enthusiasm had not died a bit. In the return the boys gave a fine exhibition of the water art.

"The Curse of an Aching Heart," was recited several times at that place, the party arrived home about 10 o'clock and each one, when reluctantly leaving the club room where the days' wind up was made, stated that it was the "best ever."

The South End Social club, although only a few years old is one of the most successful clubs in this city. Their spacious quarters, situated on Gorham street, are up-to-date in every way and a gentlemanly group of young men can be found there every evening.

The brilliant success of yesterday's affair is due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Edward Hanley, assisted by the members of the club.
